THE MARION DAILY STAR.

VOL. XIII. NO. 304 MARION, OHIO, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1890. PRICE 3 CENTS.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

A Clear Understanding Between the Countries.

LATEST ADVICES FROM MILAN.

The Policy Previously Determined Upon Will Be Carried Out and the Ties of Union More Closely United Than Ever. Two Hundred and Fifty Families to Be Evicted—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Advices from Milan state that the meeting of Chancellor Von Caprivi and Signor Crispi was of a peculiarly cordial character. Of the interview between them nothing is known to the public, but Signor Crispi is expected at a banquet soon to be held in Turin, to give the world an inkling of the understanding arrived at.

It is believed in London that the two ministers would not separate without a clear definition as to the future of the triple alliance. It is to be noted that the chancellor rather hastened his journey after the published statement that the Vatican had endeavored to influence the court of Austria against the alliance, and that notes were exchanged on this subject between the Vatican and the papal muncio at Vienna.

This reported action on the part of the papacy, and the intriguing of France to detach Italy from Germany evidently aroused the German cabinet to the need of binding more closely the ties of the union between the three powers. As both Signor Crispi and Chancellor Von Caprivi as well as their respective masters, are already pledged to the principle of the alliance, the result of the meeting would seem to have been only a cementing of a policy previously determined.

Fifteen Hundred People Homeless.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Another wholesale eviction of non-rent paying tenants from the Olphert estates at Falcarragh, County Donegal, will take place Tuesday. Two hundred and fifty families, comprising 1,500 persons, will be thrust from their humble abodes into the highways. An immense force of police and military have been ordered to the spot in order to prevent any successful resistance on the part of the tenants or their friends.

This announcement following so closely upon Chief Secretary Balfour's tour of Donegal, has caused a painful impression, and if the secretary's visit had in any degree inclined the people to hope and patience, the good effects are likely to be lost in the renewed bitterness of feeling always aroused by the unhousing of hundreds of helpless victims of the rack rent system.

Eight-Hour Movement.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 10.—Meetings were held throughout Belgium yesterday in support of the eight-hour day and universal suffrage. Many of the speakers advocated the establishment of a republic. A large amount of money was collected in view of a general strike. Handbills were thrown over the walls of the barracks in Brussels enjoining the soldiers to cooperate with the workingmen.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A gang of counterfeiters of coin, who have been operating in frontier towns, on the line between Saxony and Austria, have been arrested. An investigation of their case has resulted in implicating a number of hitherto respectable residents of the various towns in the criminal proceedings. The profits of the gang are said to have been enormous.

Some Serious Charges Made.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Lord Londonderry, speaking at West Hartlepool, yesterday, declared that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien deliberately organized the Tipperary riot and that Mr. Morley was inveigled into a trap set by them.

Explosion in a Brewery.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—An explosion in the famous Pilsen brewery yesterday caused the death of four workmen and the serious injury of several others.

Knights of the Bath.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Col. C. E. Evan Smith, British consul at Zanzibar, has been made a knight commander of the bath.

CAUGHT BY DETECTIVES.

A Kentucky Woman Goes to New York to Buy "Green Goods."

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Angelina Elizabeth Conrad, of Brookville, Bracken county, Ky., and Walter Willard, alias "Big Walter," a noted swindler, whose picture is in the rogues' gallery, were arrested here Saturday by detectives who followed them from Newark. The detectives had been shadowing Willard and traced him to to Newark, N. J., where he met Mrs. Conrad, introducing himself by a queer symbol on a telegraph blank which each carried.

At police headquarters Inspector Byrnes learned from Mrs. Conrad that she had come from Kentucky to buy $3,000 worth of "green goods" from Willard, had met him in Newark by appointment and was on her way to conclude the transaction when the detectives arrested her. Willard was locked up and Mrs. Conrad was detained at headquarters to appear against him.

Thought It Was Empty.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 10.—Frank Keller, of Linton, had been shooting at dogs, and a day or so ago was cleaning his revolver, which he thought was empty. It was discharged, and his wife, who was standing near, was shot in the right side. She has since died. Mr. Keller is left with three small children, and is almost distracted with grief.

The Weather.

Rain; clearing weather; cooler, westerly gales; followed by a cold wave.

A THREATENED LYNCHING.

A Disastrous Race Riot May Soon Take Place at Annapolis, Md.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 10.—Ernest Forbes was lodged in jail Friday, charged with outraging Bertha Phipps, a 15-year-old girl living near West River. The assault was committed on Thursday, the girl being terribly maltreated. Forbes was not captured until the following day, and then only after a careful search, in which a great many persons joined. At the time of his capture Forbes was twice shot at, one ball lodging in his back.

Threats of lynching were freely made, and last night Sheriff Armiger decided to secretly remove Forbes to the city hotel. Some person espied the officer and prisoner and immediately spread the report that Forbes was about to be lynched. Within fifteen minutes 1,000 negroes had surrounded the place where Forbes had been secreted and made all sorts of threats against the jailers if they allowed the prisoner to be harmed. Soon bricks began to fly and pistols were flourished. The officers with drawn revolvers arrested thirteen negroes and lodged them in jail. By this time the entire town was aroused to a pitch not equalled in many years and a race riot between the whites and blacks was imminent. The sheriff soon [illegible] assistance about midnight dispersed the mob and marched Forbes back to jail where he has since been guarded by a strong force.

A LEAP FOR LIFE.

A Man Jumps from a Trestle Into a River, Ninety-Two Feet Below.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 10.—John Murphy, a harness maker living at Rocky River, near this city, had a thrilling experience Saturday. He attempted to cross the river on the high bridge of the Nickel-Plate railroad. When half way over he turned and saw an express train coming. The bridge is long, and Murphy knew that he could not reach the opposite bank ahead of the train.

Ninety-two feet below him was the river, and a jump would mean almost certain death. He signaled to the engineer, but the train rushed ahead. Seeing there was no chance to hang from the side of the bridge Murphy took the desperate chance of jumping. He went down like a flash and disappeared in the river. A boat house keeper had witnessed the leap, and he at once put out in a boat, expecting to pick up the man's dead body. Murphy arose to the surface and put out for shore. He was taken into the boat, and strange to say was injured but little. His side was bruised and a watch in his vest pocket was smashed flat. A physician who was called says his injuries were not serious.

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

A Claim That Alliance Men Will Soon Control Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—President Polk, of the Farmers' Alliance has just returned to the city. In an interview he said: "Up to the present time it is a certainty that the Fifty-second congress will contain thirty-eight straight-out Alliance men, and from twelve to fifteen others who are pledged to us. These men are from the south and northwest—the two sections in which most of our work was done.

"The Alliance in Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa is not our organization, has not amalgamated with us, but it made the same fight and will join us this winter. Our alliance cooperated with them; we will cooperate with any farmers' association and in a little while have a grip on the situation in almost every corner of the land.

"We are here to stay. This great reform movement will not cease until it has impressed itself indelibly in the nation's history. Financial reform is the necessity of the hour, and it must come."

Steamship Long Overdue.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10. The steamship Gussie, Capt. Brown, of the Morgan line, between Bluefields, Nicaragua, and New Orleans, is long overdue, and it is feared was lost in the recent hurricane in the gulf. The Gussie is a sidewheel steamer, twenty years old. She was loaded with fruit and rubber, and left Bluefields Oct 30. The passengers on board were J. A. Belanger and Mrs. Landry, of Bluefields; F. Beer, of Friedlander & Company; Beverly Harris, son of the late J. L. Harris, a prominent cotton man, of New Orleans; Mr. Ratto, of the Galveston Importing company, and Mr. Smith, of Smith & Levy, attorneys, Galveston. The Gussie was consigned to the Southern Pacific company.

Highway Robbery.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Nov. 10.—John Handerschield, a driver for Schmid Brothers, brewers, was returning yesterday from Key West, a village five miles from Dubuque. While driving through a lonely ravine he was accosted by three men, who asked permission to ride with him to Dubuque. He granted their request, and they at once demanded of him his money. He refused to give it up and one of the men shot him in the left side, inflicting a dangerous wound. The thieves then took a purse containing $100 and fled, leaving Handershield unconscious on the wagon.

John Boyle O'Reilly's Remains.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—The remains of John Boyle O'Reilly were interred at Holywood cemetery, Brookline, Friday. They were [illegible] from the tomb of Calvary cemetery. The burial was strictly private, [illegible] of the immediate family being present. The monument is an immense boulder impressive in the [illegible]. The tomb is at the base of the [illegible] and is constructed of New Hampshire [illegible].

The Italian Faster.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Professor Succi entered on the fifth day of his fast yesterday evening. He has lost eleven pounds thus far, but otherwise is feeling very well.

AGRICULTURAL.

Secretary Rusk Makes His Annual Report.

HOPEFUL VIEW OF AFFAIRS.

The Secretary Claims That the Farmer Has Been Greatly Benefited During the Past Year and Expresses Himself Perfectly Satisfied With the Present Condition of Agricultural Matters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The secretary of agriculture has presented his annual report to the president. He expresses a distinctly hopeful view of agricultural affairs, indicating the obvious benefits to farmers of certain legislation which he specifies. By comparing prices at Chicago for Oct. 16, of 1890 and of 1889, he shows a marked increase in the values of agricultural products, especially of cereals.

Secretary Rusk asserts that without ignoring the effects of natural causes in enhancing values, it is evident that the economic legislation of the last session of congress has directly benefitted the farmers; the improved value of cereals, as he believes, being largely due to the silver legislation, which, moreover, has lessened the influence of Russia and India, our wheat competitors in British markets.

Our increased export trade in cattle and animal products, another cause of congratulation, he traces to the energetic and effective measures adopted for the eradication of pleuro-pneumonia, and to the growing appreciation at home and abroad of the department's ability to suppress or effectually control contagious animal diseases. In the line of further precaution the department is now prepared to carry out the inspection of export cattle before shipment, provided for by the act of Aug. 30. Similar energy has been directed to our pork interests, the department having already undertaken the inspection called for by the same act.

The secretary strongly recommends an inspection law still more comprehensive of all animals slaughtered for interstate or foreign trade. The present immunity of northern cattle from Texas fever he believes to be due to a general compliance with the regulations of the department issued last spring.

The outlook for a home sugar industry is considered favorable. The secretary predicts that in the near future half of our sugar will be thus supplied from the sugar beet.

In the provisions of the tariff bill, Secretary Rusk finds what he regards as some glaring inconsistencies in that it gives entire control of sugar manufacturing and bounty payments to a subordinate officer of the treasury department, in spite of the fact that heretofore the department of agriculture has been charged with general supervision of the sugar industry both in its cultural and manufacturing phases.

The production of raw silk as an indigenous industry is referred to in not very encouraging terms, though its importance is emphasized by reference to the imports of raw silk, which have largely increased during the year and are valued for the year at upwards of $21,000,000; but the necessity for favorable legislation, as well for improvements in machinery, is insisted upon. Secretary Rusk believes that the recent changes in the tariff on linens will serve to encourage manufacturers to provide a market for home grown flax.

Reference is made to the forthcoming transfer of the weather bureau to the department of agriculture, with a declaration of the secretary's desire to widen the present scope of the bureau, so as to increase the benefits to agriculture. He also insists strongly upon the necessity of more frequent representation of the department at meetings of agricultural and kindred societies, not only to give them encouragement and supply information, but for the benefit of the department workers themselves, who will thus be brought into closer contact with the farmers and will become more familiar with their wants and their best means for meeting them.

The possibility of serving the corn growers throughout the country by extending the market for Indian corn in foreign countries, has engaged the secretary's attention with the result that he has appointed a special agent abroad having special qualifications for this duty to investigate and report upon the possibilities of promoting the consumption of Indian corn in European countries.

The frequent occurrences of important international agricultural gatherings is mentioned, and the fact is pointed out that at these, the United States, the greatest agricultural country in the world, is most frequently conspicuous by its absence. The secretary declares that some means should be provided by which on occasions of great importance, such as the international congress at Vienna last year, this country could be officially represented through the department of agriculture. Such gatherings, he argues, afforded the very best opportunity for properly qualified persons familiar with conditions of [illegible] agriculture to observe the [illegible] and to estimate their adaptability to our own country. [illegible] he says, [illegible] our own [illegible] which is [illegible] competition, [illegible] the [illegible] pressing my [illegible] the condition of [illegible] our own country, [illegible] of [illegible] and of [illegible] sections, at [illegible] of the [illegible] of the [illegible] be taken [illegible] condition [illegible] well for their future well being.

He ends by declaring that he looks forward with confidence "to the time when in the [illegible] quality of its work, as well as in the magnitude of its enterprise, the agriculture of the United States shall [illegible] all other industries in this country, but shall be the leader, in this great industry, of all other countries."

A BLOODY RIOT.

One Man Killed and Several Seriously Wounded at a Jubilee.

MARION, Ind., Nov. 10.—The Democratic celebration at Fairmount Saturday night in honor of the election last Tuesday was marked by a bloody riot. While the procession was moving along the principal street a negro of herculean proportions ran to the procession brandishing a club and revolver, and commenced firing and knocking right and left.

Al Powell, a white teamster, who was walking in the procession, was shot and instantly killed. The greatest excitement ensued. A score or more shots were fired, and the engagement threatened to become general. William Campbell was shot in the arm. Bill Corn was shot in the leg, Jim Berry received a bullet in the face, and Jerry Frazier, colored, received a ball in the leg.

The colored man who started the riot, whose home cannot now be ascertained, was shot twice in the back after he had killed Powell, and was placed under arrest. He was taken off in the calaboose with a howling mob at his heels, and reports from Fairmount are to the effect that there is a good prospect for a lynching.

Sheriff McFeely, of this city, has gone to the scene of the riot and will endeavor to protect the prisoner. The cooler heads at Fairmount are also using all their influence to prevent mob violence.

The darky who did the shooting came to Fairmount a few days ago from Anderson.

The condition of one or two victims who were wounded in the difficulty is reported serious.

BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN LOST.

The British Ship Ravens Hall, Oil Laden, Bound to Calcutta.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Considerable anxiety is felt in shipping circles here as to the British ship Ravens Hall, which sailed from this city on June 11 last and has not since been heard from. The Ravens Hall was bound to Calcutta. She is bulletined as missing at the Maritime Exchange Saturday, and by many it is believed that she is lost.

The vessel was under command of Capt. Telfair, and carried a cargo of 673,500 gallons of refined petroleum, in cases of ten gallons each. The oil was shipped by Henry Strasburger & Company, of this city, and is valued at about $27,000. The agents say that, while the vessel was overdue, no anxiety was felt by them. Others, in view of the combustible character of her cargo, fear that the vessel has been destroyed by fire.

MARINE DISASTER INDICATED.

Wreckage Pointing to the Loss of a Large Ship With All on Board.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 10.—It is reported from Summerside that several envelopes bearing Swedish postmarks and addressed to persons "on the bark Falka" were picked up by a pilot at Fish Island. Numerous letters similarly addressed, a gold-headed cane and other articles with wreckage have also been picked up along the New London, P. E. I., shore. It is said that during one of the late severe storms persons in the neighborhood of Tignish saw a large bark in distress off the shore at that place. While they were watching her a thick rain squall came up and hid her from view, and when it cleared away the vessel had disappeared, and was not seen again. Everything points to the loss of a large foreign bark, with all hands on board.

River Steamer Burned.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Nov. 10.—News has reached this city of the sinking of the Ossian Cook, a freight laden boat, which plies between this city and points on the upper Fox river. It appears that when the boat reached what is known as the upper cut near Northport, a small town on the Fox river, it in some way ran against a snag and sunk almost instantly. A man went below to stop the leak and was drowned. All the rest of the crew were saved. At a late hour Sunday afternoon the tug Kittie went up the river with five engines on board, and will try to raise the wreck. The boat is owned by Cook, Brown & Company, of this city, dealers in coal, lime, etc., and is valued at about $15,000; cargo about $2,000.

Peruvian Tariff Law.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. Information was received here Friday that the Peruvian government had passed a new tariff law, to take effect Feb. 1, 1891, imposing a tax of fifteen cents, Peruvian silver (five cents our money) per pound on all foreign lard, presumably with the object of encouraging native production. The news of this prohibitive tax created a stir on the Produce Exchange, as Peru takes [illegible] worth a year of the best quality of lard from this country.

Determined on Elopement.

TEXARKANA, Tex., Nov. 10.—E. M. Jones, an employe of [illegible] has disappeared [illegible] with him Clara Weeks, [illegible] 17. The officials [illegible] that Jones is short [illegible] amount. A [illegible] started in pursuit [illegible] a determination to [illegible].

Leading Dry Goods Merchant Dead.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 10.—[illegible] Knott, one of the leading [illegible] merchants of Louisville, died [illegible] afternoon. He was the father of Richard W. Knott, an associate editor of The Courier-Journal.

OHIO STATE NEWS.

Items Gathered Especially For Buckeye Readers.

CONDITION OF OHIO CROPS.

An Agricultural Report Carefully Compiled by Regular Township Correspondents Averages of the Past Month. Other Dispatches of Interest to the Buckeye Readers.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 10. The following agricultural report is based on returns from the regular township correspondents, carefully compiled by counties and averaged for the state for the past month:

Wheat—Sown last fall for the harvest of 1890, 2,557,917 acres; sown this fall compared with last year, 101 per cent.; estimated area seeded for the harvest of 1891, 2,575,056 acres; condition, compared with a full average, 99 per cent.; average date of seeding, Sept. 24.

Barley—Sown last fall for the harvest of 1890, 35,088 acres. Sown this fall, compared with last year, 96 per cent. Condition, compared with a full average, 95 per cent. Estimated area for the harvest of 1891, 31,521 acres.

Corn—Prospect compared with a full average, 56 per cent.

Buckwheat—Prospect compared with a full average, 72 per cent.

Cloverseed—Prospect compared with a full average, 47 per cent.

Potatoes—Estimated product per acre 45 per cent. Affected by rot, 13 per cent.

Apples—Product compared with full average, 9 per cent.

Hogs—Condition compared with a full average, 83 per cent. Number to be fattened compared with last year, 82 per cent.

Commercial fertilizers—Farmers using on wheat, 31 per cent.

The basis of comparison for acreage of wheat is with that sown last fall, but it should be remembered that a considerable portion of the wheat sown last fall was plowed up in the spring, so that there was a much less number of acres for the harvest than was originally sown.

The estimated increase, compared with the area last fall, is about 17,000 acres, but compared with the estimated area that was actually harvested the past season, there is an increase of over 200,000, and which, if nothing occurs in the winter or spring to cause another plow up, will make a marked difference in the product for the next harvest.

As to the condition of soil at time of seeding, fifty-four counties report good, twenty-four counties fair and ten counties bad.

Corn for the state will not exceed an average of twenty bushels an acre, and there will be considerable of an unmerchantable grade.

Reports are numerous that corn in shock sustained damage by reason of the heavy rains, and far short of the usual amount at this time of the year is cribbed, owing to soft undry condition. Considerable corn is being husked and fed off; still, owing to the very small crop, farmers are selling their hogs as fast as they can get them in the market. Well fattened lard hogs will be the exception and not the rule this year.

The corn crop of last year was about 87,500,000 bushels, an average of 32 3-10 bushels per acre. This year, with the slight decrease in acreage and the great falling off in product, the crop is estimated at about 53,000,000 of bushels, a shortage as compared with last year of more than 31,000,000, considerable of which will be of inferior quality.

In Ohio the potato crop is unusually short, and we have now no reason to expect more than about one-half of a fair average product, and with the reports of rot received from nearly every county of the state the shortage may be still greater. Last year the potato product was reported as 11,500,000 bushels. The present prospect, with a slight increase of acreage over last year, indicates only about 6,500,000 bushels, a shortage of about 5,000,000.

The hay crop is the best for a number of years, averaging for the state fully one and one-half tons per acre. It was harvested under the most favorable circumstances, but there will be some damage to that in the stack by reason of the heavy rains during September.

Ohio School Children.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 10.—The state school commissioner has just prepared his annual abstract of the enumeration of children of school age, that is between 6 and 21, in Ohio. There are 576,526 boys and 548,222 girls. Total 1,124,748, as against 1,120,537 last year an increase of 4,211. Hamilton county reports 51,649 boys and 51,649 boys and 51,555 girls. Total 103,204, as against 105,975 last year, a decrease of 2,771. Commissioner Hancock, however, is of the opinion that last year's figures were too high and that the enumeration this year is substantially correct. Cuyahoga comes next, with [illegible], then Franklin with 26,622, and then Lucas, with [illegible].

An Innocent Man in Prison.

[illegible], Nov. 10.—A statement has been received from a Pittsburg lawyer which, if true, shows that an innocent man is in the penitentiary. In December, 1888, William Offet was received at the penitentiary from Lorain county to serve fifteen years for assault with intent to rape. The prosecuting witness was Mrs. Julia Underwood, the wife of a minister. Offet admitted intimacy, but denied the assault. The husband writes that his wife, from whom he is now separated, has confessed to him that her testimony was false.

Five Dwellings Burned.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 10.—Fire about 12 o'clock [illegible] destroyed five dwellings in the central part of Tremont. All the buildings except one, a two story brick house, were frame structures. Loss estimated at [illegible].

NATIONAL POLITICS.

How the Speakership Contest May Affect Presidential Candidates.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—With the return of members of congress to the city, the contest for the speakership of the next house begins to assume local interest and importance. The fight for the position will be waged warmly during the coming winter and will undoubtedly have its effect even on the deliberations of the present house of representatives. The most interesting phase of the discussion on the subject at this time is the question of its relation to the contest for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1892. One of the current bits of gossip is that an alliance may be formed between the east and the west in the speakership contest with a view of making an arrangement for the presidential nomination.

Prominent Democrats now in the city say that the Democratic strength in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, West Virginia, part of Pennsylvania and part of Virginia can be thrown for a western candidate for the speakership in exchange for western votes for an eastern candidate for the presidential nomination. Governor Abbett, of New Jersey; ex-Governor Black, of Pennsylvania; Senator Barbour, of Virginia, and Senator Gorman, of Maryland, are counted as favorable to such an alliance. In this combination, the candidates for the presidency most spoken of are Whitney and Hill; while it is current gossip that the friends of Cleveland and Pattison in the east may form an alliance for the election of a southern candidate for speaker in exchange for southern votes in the Democratic National convention.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The President Fixes on Thursday, Nov. 27, as the Day for Thanks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The following proclamation has been issued by the president of the United States:

A Proclamation:

By the grace and favor of Almighty God the people of this nation have been led to the closing days of the passing year, which has been full of the blessings of peace and the comforts of plenty. Bountiful compensation has come to us for the work of our minds and of our hands in every department of human industry.

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 27th day of the present month of November, to be observed as a day of prayer and thanksgiving; and I do invite the people upon that day to cease from their labors, to meet in their accustomed houses of worship and to join in rendering gratitude and praise to our beneficent Creator for the rich blessings He has granted us as a nation, and invoking the continuance of His protection and grace for the future. I commend to my fellow citizens the privilege of remembering the poor, the homeless and the sorrowful. Let us endeavor to merit the promised recompense of charity and the gracious acceptance of our praise.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 8th day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1890, and of the independence of the United States, the 115th. BENJAMIN HARRISON.

By the President—James G. Blaine, Secretary of State.

Indian Murderer Found Guilty.

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 10.—Pierre Paul, an Indian, was Saturday night found guilty of murder in the first degree. This is the fourth Indian who has been found guilty in the last three weeks of murdering white men on the Flat-head reservation. Pascale killed a man for his money. Antler was one of the three Indians who shot three prospectors without provocation. His companions were lynched. Lasee and Pierre Paul, with three or four others, went out gunning for white men and each of them killed a man. Pascale, Antler and Lasee are sentenced to be hanged Dec. 19, and Paul will probably swing at the same time.

An Insane Man's Deed.

LA COLLE, Que., Nov. 10.—At Clarenceville yesterday afternoon a man named Fournival, who for some time has been insane, but was not supposed to be dangerously so, rushed in the house where his wife was at work, seized a razor, and drew it across her throat, inflicting a terrible wound from which the woman died. After committing the crime Fournival fled and has not been captured. It is thought that he has committed suicide in the woods.

It Proved to Be a Murder.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10.—David A. Grever, the wealthy cattle man, who was shot Friday afternoon by Charles Clifford, the New York light-weight pugilist, died from the effect of his wound yesterday afternoon. Clifford will be arraigned, charged with murder. Mrs. Clifford, over whom the quarrel was held, has disappeared. It is thought she may have concealed herself, fearful of being charged with complicity in Grever's murder.

Damaged Wall Paper.

NEENAH, Wis., Nov. 10. The Globe wall paper mills were gutted by fire early yesterday morning. S. E. Trout, [illegible], a member of the firm, places his loss upon the stock at about $1,000; fully insured. The building is owned by E. F. Wickert, who estimates his loss at $1,7[illegible], insured for $1,500. Incendiarism is suspected.

Signal Tower Ran Into.

ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 10.—A stock train crashed into and completely wrecked the signal tower at Port Royal, on the Pennsylvania road, yesterday. The operator escaped death by jumping from the tower but the fireman of the train was killed.

At Canton, O., Victor Staub, while working a power saw, was struck by a piece of wood on which he was working. His breast bone was broken, and the fracture is serious, if not fatal.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRE.

Items of Interest Put in Convenient Form for Readers.

A snow storm was prevalent in Minnesota Saturday.

Ed. McCarthy, a Cincinnati murderer, has been convicted of murder in the first degree.

The Dixiana farm, near Lexington, Ky., has been sold to J. S. Coxey, of Massillon, O., for $32,500.

A. C. Evans, the dissolute millionaire of Springfield, O., died Saturday in the Lebanon, O., sanitarium.

Capt. James P. Warfard, one of the most prominent river men of that section, died at West Troy, N. Y., from injuries received by a fall.

The official plurality for Secretary of State Ryan in Hamilton county is 8,529. That of Storer for congress is 2,288, and of Caldwell 7,020.

The remains of Abraham Lincoln, son of Minister Lincoln, were Saturday deposited in the crypt of the Lincoln monument, at Springfield, Ill.

Owing to the prevalence of malignant diphtheria among the children at Lexington, Ill., the public schools of that place have been closed.

An early morning fire in a lodging-house at 152 West Thirty-second, New York, caused the death by suffocation of one of the lodgers, John Callahan.

Judge Stone, of Cleveland, O., refused to annul the marriage of Burt Truscott and Alice Murphy, minors, who married against the wishes of the boy's parents.

The drawing off of the water from Feather river, California, exposed gravel rich in gold, and the present expectation is that the yield will be millions of dollars.

Henry J. Moulton, formerly editor of The Lowell, Mass., Citizen, and owner of The Sunday Critic of that city, charged with forgery, is in jail, lacking $5,000 bail.

The carding and spinning departments of the Harrison woolen mill at Woonsocket shut down. There is every prospect of a complete shut down of the mills of this company.

The remains of John Boyle O'Reilly were interred at Hollywood cemetery, Brookline, Friday. The burial was strictly private, only a few of the immediate family being present.

John Murphy, living near Cleveland, jumped from a bridge on the "Nickel-Plate" railroad into the river, ninety-two feet below to save himself from being run down by a train. He was not seriously hurt.

Jacob Berkson, doing a hosiery business in Chicago as Jacob Berkson & Company, confessed judgment in favor of Max Swartz for $8,486, and Felsenthal, Gross & Miller, bankers, for $7,057. Both judgments are on notes.

Rev. F. M. Dimmick and wife, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Miss M. E. Chase, of the same city, who were injured in the railroad accident at Quincy, Mass., are now able to travel, and will return to their homes next week in a special car.

Cardinal Gibbons has received from Rome a positive contradiction of the statement recently published that Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, had been summoned to Rome on account of the views expressed by the archbishop on public school education in this country.

Dr. C. H. Reed, a dentist, was found lying dead in a hallway of an office block in Binghampton, N. Y. There was nothing from which the cause of death could be ascertained. His wife, with her two children, has been living for some time past at the home of her parents in Philadelphia.

Boy Murdered by a Woman.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 10.—Ed. Traub, a boy, was shot dead by Mrs. Vogle here Saturday evening. Traub was sitting on Mrs. Vogle's fence watching some boys play marbles. Mrs. Vogle ordered him away, and when he did not go shot him.

If Your House is on Fire

You put water on the burning timbers, not on the smoke. And if you have catarrh you should attack the disease in the blood, not in your nose. Remove the impure cause, and the local effect subsides. To do this, take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which radically and permanently cures catarrh. It also strengthens the nerves. Be sure and get only Hood's Sarsaparilla.

ALAS!

How wretched is the man who has fallen a victim to Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, or diseased Liver, with all the horrible attendants. Look upon the picture. Poor man, being tired of dragging out a miserable existence, he is the picture of despondency; altogether, he is rather a forlorn specimen. Do we pity him? Of course; but at the same time feel assured that in a measure he is to blame for the bad state into which he has fallen. A sure, safe, speedy and cheap cure can be found in Simmons Liver Regulator—Nature's own remedy. No mercury or deleterious drugs, not unpleasant to the taste, and always reliable. [illegible] such a remedy as you can [illegible] your faith to without a shadow of disappointment. Read the testimonial, don't take our word for it:

"I have been subject to severe spells of Congestion of the Liver, and have been in the habit of taking from 15 to 20 grains of calomel, which generally laid me up for three or four days. Lately I have been taking Simmons Liver Regulator, which gave me relief, without any interruption to business." J. [illegible], Middleport, Ohio.

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,

SOLE PROPRIETORS, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

PRICE, $1.00.

The Marion Daily Star.

Published Every Evening Except Sunday

—BY—

W. G. HARDING.

TERMS:

By Mail.............$4 per Year in Advance
Delivered by Carrier.......10 Cts. per Week

MONDAY, - - NOVEMBER 10.

SHOES OF THE WORLD.

The Portuguese shoe has a wooden sole and heel, with a vamp made of patent leather fancifully showing the flesh side of the skin.

The Persian footgear is a raised shoe and is often made a foot high. It is made of light wood richly inlaid, with a strap extending over the instep.

The Algerian shoe in appearance is not unlike the light English wooden clogs. This shoe is made entirely of leather in the simplest form and usually without any ornamentation.

The Armenian shoe has a leather sole and heel, without a counter and back quarters. The vamp is made of felt and is beautifully ornamented with needlework done in colored silk thread.

The Muscovite shoe is hand woven on a wooden frame, and but little attention is paid to the shape of the foot. Leather is sometimes used, but the sandal is generally made of colored silk cordage and woolen cloth.

The Siam shoe has the form of an ancient canoe with a gondola bow and an open top. The sole is made of wood and the upper of inlaid wood and cloth, and the exterior is elaborately ornamented in colors and with gold and silver.

The sandal worn by the Egyptians is composed of a sole made by sticking together three thicknesses of leather. This is held to the foot by a band passing across the instep. The sandal is beautifully stitched with threads of different colors.

The Mussulman's shoe is of heavy leather. It is adjusted to the foot by a wide leather strap which runs from the heel and buckles over the instep. The only ornamentation is the fastening of two feather plumes on the right side of the sharp toe.

The Russian boot is composed of many pieces of morocco in several colors, put together in a shape to please the taste of the maker or wearer. The foot of the boot is made of heavy calf. The whole boot is beautifully embossed by thread in bright colors.

The Hungarian shoe, or moccasin, is made of rawhide, prepared by a sun curing process. It is bound together with many thongs of rawhide. Loops or thongs extend upward around the ankle and through these loops is passed a strap which is buckled at the side.

The Grecian shoe is made almost entirely of leather, and has a thickly padded sole, with a sharp turn up toe which is surmounted by a large ball of colored wool or hair. The shoe is fleece lined and is gorgeously decorated with beads and ornamental stitching.

The clog worn by the Japanese is of wood, and as viewed from the side is the shape of a boy's sled. It is fastened to the foot by a string which passes between the great and second toe and across the former. A strap, an inch in width and lined with linen, is carried across the instep.

Chinese shoes have no fastening or string, buckle or strap. The upper is made of felt, velvet or other cloth. The sole does not extend to the end of the shoe, but curves upward beneath the ball of the foot. The sole being very thick it gives the wearer an unsteadiness of gait, as though a pair of rockers were fastened to his feet.

MOON SUPERSTITIONS.

In South America a human figure is seen in the moon.

The Chinese see a hare pounding rice in a mortar in the moon.

The Dakota Indians believe that the moon is gnawed by mice.

The Samoan islanders perceive a woman with her child in the moon.

The North American Indians see a gnawing animal in the orb of night.

In the whole of eastern Asia the people see in the moon a rabbit or a hare.

The Polynesians think that the spirits of the dead are nourished by the moon.

The Siamese perceive in part of the moon a hare, and in another part a woman tilling the ground.

On the ancient monuments in Central America the moon appears as a jar or a shell whence a rabbit shaped animal is springing.

The Scandinavians believe the moon once carried off two children, as they came from the water bearing a jar, and they can still be seen with it in the orb.

The Hottentots imagine that the moon monthly suffers from headaches, when they grow too severe she covers her head with her hand and hides it from our eyes.

One of the tribes of northwestern India, who regard the monthly disappearance of the moon as burning, have connected the spots with this idea, and believe them to be the remains of ashes.

The custom of lifting the hat had its origin when knights never appeared in public except in full armor, but upon entering an assembly of friends the knight removed his helmet, the act signifying, "I am safe in the presence of my friends."

The Esquimaux have a thoroughly national tradition. One day Aninga, the moon, pursued his sister, the sun, but when he had caught her the sun turned and smeared his face with soot, traces of which still remain.

STRAY BITS.

Massachusetts schools cost over $7,500,000 a year.

A traveler has discovered that brunettes are not the rule in Spain. Many Spanish women are fair, with blue eyes.

The smallest division of money in Montana is a "bit." "Two bits" make a quarter, which purchases a drink and a cigar.

At the funeral of an aged lady at Woolwich, England, her seven sons, all clergymen of the Church of England, were present.

There are 200,000 women in the Woman's Christian Temperance union, 150,000 in the King's Daughters, 100,000 in the Woman's Relief corps and 35,000 in the Eastern Star.

A new invention in musical instruments brought out in Germany is called a "bowed piano." It resembles a pianoforte frame contains six violins, two violas and two violoncellos.

In many offices a potato is used instead of a pen wiper. The juicy tuber holds the pen steady, removes at once all ink from the nib, prevents the process of corrosion, and spares many a well loved pen to a ripe old age.

JOURNEY TO NAZARETH.

DR. TALMAGE BIDS JERUSALEM GOOD-BY AND JOURNEYS NORTHWARD.

"Where the Blue Waves Roll Nightly on Deep Galilee"—Last Look at Mount Zion, Mount Calvary and the Mount of Olives.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 9.—Today Dr. Talmage preached the seventh of his course of sermons on his recent tour in Palestine. As on previous Sundays the sermon was preached before two large audiences. In the morning it was preached in the Academy of Music in this city, and at night Dr. Talmage preached it again in the New York Academy of Music which The Christian Herald continues to rent for these services. During the six meetings thus far held in New York, 90,000 people have endeavored to hear Dr. Talmage preach. Of these 30,000 have been admitted and 60,000 have been turned away for lack of accommodation. Following is the sermon from the text, "So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north" (Ezekiel viii, 5).

At 1 o'clock on a December afternoon through Damascus gate we are passing out of Jerusalem for a journey northward. Ho! for Bethel, with its stairs, the bottom step of which was a stone pillow; and Jacob's well, with its immortal colloquy, and Nazareth, with its divine boy in his father's carpenter shop, and the most glorious lake that ever rippled or flashed—

Blue Galilee, sweet Galilee,
The lake where Jesus loved to be;

and Damascus, with its crooked street called Straight, and a hundred places charged and surcharged with apostolic, evangelistic, prophetic, patriarchal, kingly and Christly reminiscences.

In traveling along the roads of Palestine I am impressed, as I could not otherwise have been, with the fact that Christ for the most part went afoot. We find him occasionally on a boat, and once riding in a triumphal procession, as it is sometimes called, although it seems to me that the hosannas of the crowd could not have made a ride on a stubborn, unimpressive and funny creature like that which pattered with him into Jerusalem very much of a triumph. But we are made to understand that generally he walked. How much that means only those know who have gone over the distance traversed by Christ.

We are accustomed to read that Bethany is two miles from Jerusalem. Well, any man in ordinary health can walk two miles without fatigue. But not more than one man out of a thousand can walk from Bethany to Jerusalem without exhaustion. It is over the Mount of Olives, and you must climb up among the rolling stones and descend where exertion is necessary to keep you from falling prostrate. I, who am accustomed to walk fifteen or twenty miles without lassitude, tried part of this road over the Mount of Olives, and confess I would not want to try it often, such demand does it make upon one's physical energies. Yet Christ walked it twice a day—in the morning from Bethany to Jerusalem, and in the evening from Jerusalem to Bethany.

CHRIST'S WALK TO NAZARETH.

Likewise it seemed a small thing that Christ walked from Jerusalem to Nazareth. But it will take us four days of hard horseback riding, sometimes on a trot and sometimes on a gallop, to do it this week. The way is mountainous in the extreme. To those who went up to the Tip Top house on Mount Washington, before the railroad was laid, I will say that this journey from Jerusalem to Nazareth is like seven such American journeys. So, all up and down and across and recrossing Palestine, Jesus walked. Abraham rode, David rode, Solomon rode, Herod rode, Antony rode. But Jesus walked. With swollen ankles and sore muscles of the legs, and bruised heel and stiff joints and panting lungs and faint head, along the roads, and where there were no roads at all, Jesus walked.

We tried to get a new horse other than that on which we had ridden on the journey to the Dead sea, for he had faults which our close acquaintanceship had developed. But after some experimenting with other quadrupeds of that species, and finding that all horses, like their riders, have faults, we concluded to choose a saddle on that beast whose faults we were most prepared to pity or resist. We rode down through the valley and then up on Mount Scopus and, as our dragoman tells us that this is the last opportunity we shall have of looking at Jerusalem, we turn our horse's head toward the city and take a long, sad and thrilling look at the religious capital of our planet. This is the most impressive view of the most tremendous city of all time.

On this ground [illegible] the armies of the crusaders at the first sight of the city threw themselves on their faces in worship. Here most of the besieging armies encamped the night before opening their volleys of death against Jerusalem. Our last look. Farewell, Mount Zion, Mount Moriah, Mount of Olives, Mount Calvary! Will we ever see them again? Never. The world is so [illegible] and time is so short, and [illegible] so many things we have never seen [illegible] we cannot afford to come [illegible] anything more than [illegible]. Farewell [illegible] thrones of every [illegible] years of [illegible] well [illegible] hundred [illegible] valley of [illegible] I throw [illegible] last look, I [illegible] agitation of body, mind and soul indescribable.

WHEN ISRAEL WAS IN ANARCHY.

And now, like Ezekiel in my text, I lift up mine eyes the way toward the north. Near here was one of the worst tragedies of the ages mentioned in the Bible. A hospitable old man coming home at eventide from his work in the fields finds two strangers, a husband and wife, proposing to lodge in the street because no shelter is offered them, and invites them to come in and spend the night in his house. During the night the ruffians of the neighborhood conspired together and surrounded the house and left the woman dead on the doorstep, and the husband, to rally in revenge the twelve tribes, cut the corpse of the woman into twelve parts and sent a twelfth of it to each tribe, and the fury of the nation was roused, and a peremptory demand was made for the surrender of the assassins, and, the demand refused, in one day twenty thousand people were left dead on the field and the next day eighteen thousand. Wherever our horse today plants his foot in those ancient times a corpse lay, and the roads were crossed by red rivulets of carnage.

Now we pass on where seven youths were put to death and their bodies gibbeted or hung in chains, not for anything they had themselves done, but as a reparation for what their father and grandfather, Saul, had done. Burial was denied these youths from May until November. Rizpah, the mother of two of these dead boys, appoints herself as sentinel to guard the seven corpses from beak of raven and tooth of wolf and paw of lion. She pitches a black tent on the rock close by the gibbets. Rizpah by day sits on the ground in front of her tent, and when a vulture begins to lower out of the noonday sky seeking its prey among the gibbets Rizpah rises, her long hair flying in the wind, and, swinging her arms wildly about, shoos away the bird of prey until it retreats to its eyrie. At night she rests under the shadow of her tent and sometimes falls into a drowsiness or half sleep. But the step of a jackal among the dry leaves or the panting of a hyena arouses her, and with the fury of a maniac she rushes out upon the rock crying, "Away! Away!" and then, examining the gibbets to see that they still keep their burden, returns again to her tent till some swooping wing from the midnight sky or some growling monster on the rock again wakes her.

THE LONE WATCH OF RIZPAH.

A mother watching her dead children through May, June, July, August, September and October! What a vigil! Painters have tried to put upon canvas the scene, and they succeeded in sketching the hawks in the sky and the panthers crawling out from the jungle, but they fail to give the wanness, the earnestness, the supernatural courage, the infinite self sacrifice of Rizpah, the mother. A mother in the quiet home watching by the casket of a dead child for one night exerts the artist to his utmost; but who is sufficient to put upon canvas a mother for six months of midnights guarding her whole family, dead and gibbeted upon the mountains?

Go home, Rizpah! You must be awfully tired. You are sacrificing your reason and your life for those whom you can never bring back again to your bosom. As I say that from the darkest midnight of the century Rizpah turns upon me and cries: "How dare you tell me to go home? I am a mother. I am not tired. You might as well expect God to get tired as for a mother to get tired. I cared for those boys when they lay on my breast in infancy and I will not forsake them now that they are dead. Interrupt me not. There stoops an eagle that I must drive back with my agonized cry. There is a panther I must beat back with my club!"

Do you know what that scene by our roadside in Palestine makes me think of? It is no unusual scene. Right here in these three cities by the American sea coast there are a thousand cases this moment worse than that. Mothers watching boys that the rum saloon, that annex of hell, has gibbeted in a living death. Boys hung in chains of evil habit they cannot break. The father may go to sleep after waiting until twelve o'clock at night for the ruined boy to come home and, giving it up, he may say, "Mother, come to bed; there's no use sitting up any longer." But mother will not go to bed. It is one o'clock in the morning. It is half past one. It is two o'clock. It is half past two when he comes staggering through the hall.

Do you say that young man is yet alive? No, he is dead. Dead to his father's entreaties. Dead to his mother's prayer. Dead to the family altar where he was reared. Dead to all the [illegible] that once inspired him. Two years [illegible] only a corpse of what he once was. [illegible] God and [illegible] Chained [illegible] his cold [illegible] But his [illegible] After [illegible] Mother [illegible] Ma [illegible]

[illegible] this country [illegible] They are taking care not to hurt the feelings of the jackals and buzzards [illegible] on the shelves of the grog shops [illegible] hoot above the dead. I am [illegible] to what political party I [illegible] now declare my opinion of the political parties today. Each one is worse than the other, and the only consolation in regard to them is that they have putrefied until they have no more power to rot. Oh that comparatively [illegible] upon which Rizpah looked! She looked upon only seven of the slain. American motherhood and American wifehood this moment are looking upon seventy of the slain, upon seven hundred of the slain, upon seventy thousand of the slain. Woe! woe! woe!

My only consolation on this subject is that foreign capitalists are buying up the American breweries. The present owners see that the doom of that business is coming as surely as that God is not dead. They are unloading upon foreign capitalists, and when we can get these breweries into the hands of people living on the other side of the sea our political parties will cease to be afraid of the liquor traffic, and at their conventions nominating presidential candidates will put in their platform a plank as big as the biggest plank of the biggest ocean steamer, saying: "Resolved unanimously that we always have been and always will be opposed to alcoholism."

But I must spur on our Arab steed, and here we come in sight of Beeroth, said to be the place where Joseph and Mary missed the boy Jesus on the way from Jerusalem to Nazareth, going home now from a great national festival. "Where is my child, Jesus?" says Mary. "Where is my child, Jesus?" says Joseph. Among the thousands that are returning from Jerusalem they thought that certainly he was walking on in the crowd. They described him, saying: "He is 12 years old, and of light complexion and blue eyes. A lost child!" Great excitement in all the crowd. Nothing so stirs folks as the news that a child is lost. I shall not forget the scene when, in a great outdoor meeting, I was preaching, and some one stepped on the platform and said that a child was lost. We went on with the religious service, but all our minds were on the lost child.

After a while a man brought on the platform a beautiful little tot that looked like a piece of heaven dropped down, and said, "Here is that child." And I forgot all that I was preaching about, and lifted the child to my shoulder and said, "Here is the lost child, and the mother will come and get her right away, or I will take her home and add her to my own brood!" And some cried and some shouted, and amid all that crowd I instantly detected the mother. Everybody had to get out of her way or be walked over. Hats were nothing and shoulders were nothing and heads were nothing in her pathway, and I realized something of what must have been Mary's anxiety when she lost Jesus, and what her gladness when she found her boy in the temple of Jerusalem, talking with these old ministers of religion, Shammai, Hillel and Betirah.

THE ANSWER TO PRAYER.

I bear down on you today with a mighty comfort. Mary and Joseph said, "Where is our Jesus?" and you say, "Where is John? or where is Henry? or where is George?" Well, I should not wonder if you found him after a while. Where? In the same place where Joseph and Mary found their boy—in the temple. What do I mean by that? I mean, you do your duty toward God and toward your child and you will find him after a while in the Kingdom of Christ. Will you say, "I do not have any way of influencing my child?" I answer you have the most tremendous line of influence open right before you. As you write a letter, and there are two or three routes by which it may go, but you want it to go the quickest route, and you put on it "via Southampton," or "via San Francisco," or "via Marseilles," put on your wishes about your child, "via the throne of God." How long will such a good wish take to get to its destination? Not quite as long as the millionth part of a second. I will prove it. The promise is, "Before they call I will answer." That means at your first motion toward such prayer [illegible] the blessing will come, and if the prayer be made at 10 o'clock [illegible] will be answered [illegible] minutes before [illegible] "Before they call I will answer."

Well, you say [illegible] aged [illegible] I will have to see him [illegible] Nevertheless I [illegible] in the temple [illegible] last one hundred years [illegible] glory [illegible] this world [illegible] Christ [illegible] Mary found [illegible] years in the temple [illegible] could not afford [illegible] of the things he [illegible] in the Bible is that [illegible] est and believing prayer [illegible] would wreck His own throne, and the foundations of His palace would give way, and the [illegible] heaven [illegible] payment, and the dark [illegible] would be written [illegible] and the eternal government would be disturbed [illegible] God [illegible] would become an exile. Keep on with your prayer, and you will yet find your child in the temple—either the temple [illegible] or the temple above.

THE ROBBER OVERCOME.

Out on the western prairies was a happy but isolated home. Father, mother and child. By the sale of cattle quite a large sum of money was one night in that cabin, and the father was away. A robber who had heard of the money one night looked in at the window, and the wife and mother of that home saw him and she was helpless. Her child by her side, she knelt down and prayed among other things for all prodigals who were wandering up and down the world. The robber heard her prayer and was overwhelmed and entered the cabin and knelt beside her and began to pray. He had come to rob that house, but the prayer of that woman for prodigals reminded him of his mother and her prayers before he became a vagabond, and from that hour he began a new life. Years after that woman was in a city in a great audience, and the orator who came on the platform and plead gloriously for righteousness and God was the man who many years before had looked into the cabin on the prairie as a robber. The speaker and the auditor immediately recognized each other. After so long a time a mother's prayers answered.

But we must hurry on, for the muleteers and baggage men have been ordered to pitch our tents for tonight at Bethel. It is already getting so dark that we have to give up all idea of guiding the horses, and leave them to their own sagacity. We ride down amid mud cabins and into ravines, where the horses leap from depth to depth, rocks below rocks, rocks under rocks. Whoa! Whoa! We dismount in this place, memorable for many things in Bible history, the two more prominent, a theological seminary, where of old they made ministers, and for Jacob's dream. The students of this Bethel Theological seminary were called "sons of the prophets." Here the young men were fitted for the ministry, and those of us who ever had the advantage of such institutions will everlastingly be grateful, and in the calendar of saints, which I read with especial affection, are the doctors of divinity who blessed me with their care.

I thank God that from these theological seminaries there is now coming forth a magnificent crop of young ministers, who are taking the pulpits in all parts of the land. I hail their coming, and tell these young brothers to shake off the somnolence of centuries, and get out from under the dusty shelves of theological discussions which have no practical bearing on this age, which needs to get rid of its sins and have its sorrows comforted. Many of our pulpits are dying of humdrum. People do not go to church because they cannot endure the technicalities and profound explanations of nothing, and sermons about the "eternal generation of the son," and the difference between sublapsarianism and supralapsarianism, and about who Melchisedeck wasn't. There ought to be as much difference between the modes of presenting truth now and in olden time as between a lightning express rail train and a canal boat.

Years ago I went up to the door of a factory in New England. On the outside door I saw the words, "No admittance." I went in and came to another door over which were the words, "No admittance." Of course I went in, and came to the third door inscribed with the words, "No admittance." Having entered this I found the people inside making pins, beautiful pins, useful pins, and nothing but pins. So over the outside door of many of the churches has been practically written the words, "No admittance." Some have entered and have come to the inside door, and found the words, "No admittance." But, persisting, they have come inside, and found us [illegible] our little niceties of belief, [illegible] our little differences of theological sentiment [illegible]

THE LADDER FROM EARTH TO HEAVEN.

But most distinguished was Bethel for that famous dream which Jacob had. His head on a collection of stones, he had not been able in this rocky region [illegible] a rocky pillow. There is hardly anything else but stone. Yet the people of these lands have a way of drawing their outer garment up over their head and face, and such a pillow I suppose Jacob had under his head. The [illegible] was used in the Bible story [illegible] was for a pillow [illegible] stones, I suppose, [illegible] heaven [illegible] in the [illegible] with [illegible] often [illegible] and [illegible] And [illegible] the [illegible] put [illegible] angels [illegible] they kept [illegible] both ways.

I suppose they had wings for the [illegible] as [illegible] this was a ladder on which they used hands and feet to encourage all those of us who have no wings to [illegible] believe that [illegible] in the Bible [illegible]

The [illegible] dream of all [illegible] that [illegible] rocks of [illegible] saw [illegible] The next most [illegible] dream was that of John Bunyan, his pillow the cold stone of the floor of Bedford jail, from which he saw the [illegible] and so many [illegible] self [illegible]

THE LADDER OF [illegible]

The next [illegible] was that of Washington sleeping on the ground at Valley Forge, his [illegible] a white pillowcase of snow, where he saw the vision of a nation emancipated. Columbus slept on a weaver's pillow, but saw on the ladder let down until he [illegible] a new hemisphere. Demosthenes slept on a cutler's pillow, but on the ladder [illegible] to [illegible]. Arkwright slept on a barber's pillow, but went up the ladder till he saw all England quake with the factories he set going. Akenside slept on a butcher's pillow, and took the ladder up till he saw other generations helped by his scholarship.

John Ashworth slept on a poor man's pillow, but took the ladder up until he could see his prayers and exertions bringing thousands of the destitute in England to salvation and heaven. Nearly all those who are today great in merchandise, in statesmanship, in law, in medicine, in art, in literature, were once at the foot of the ladder, and in their boyhood had a pillow hard as Jacob's. They who are born at the top of the ladder are apt to spend their lives in coming down, while those who are at the foot, and their head on a bowlder, [illegible] have the right kind of dream [illegible]

I notice that the angels [illegible] coming down or going up on Jacob's ladder took it step by step. [illegible] did not begin to the [illegible] to the top. So you must [illegible] added to faith, [illegible] deed. Industry to [illegible] tion to consecration until you reach the top, rung by rung. Gradual going up from a block of granite to pillar of throne.

That night at Bethel I stood in front of my tent and looked up, and the heavens were full of ladders, first a ladder of clouds, then a ladder of stars, and all up and down the heavens were angels of beauty, angels of consolation, angels of God, ascending and descending. "Surely God is in this place," said Jacob, "and I knew it not." But tonight God is in this place and I know it!

Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills

Act on a new principle—regulating the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new discovery. Dr. Miles' Pills speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles, constipation. Unequaled for men, women, children. Smallest, mildest, surest! Fifty doses, 25 cents. Samples free at Denison & Co., and Hoberman & Co.

Scrofula

Is the most ancient and most general of all diseases. Scarcely a family is entirely free from it, while thousands everywhere are its suffering slaves. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had remarkable success in curing every form of scrofula. The most severe and painful running sores, swellings in the neck or goitre, humor in the eyes, causing partial or total blindness, yield to the powerful effects of this medicine. It thoroughly removes every impurity from the blood.

Scrofula

"My little daughter's life was saved, as we believe, by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she was six months old she had 7 running scrofula sores. One physician advised the amputation of one of her fingers, to which we refused assent. When we began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla, a marked improvement was noticed and by a continued use of it her recovery was complete. And she is now, being seven years old, strong and healthy." B. C. JONES, Alna, Lincoln County, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

HE DID—HE DIDN'T!

[illegible] WEAKNESSES & DISEASES OF MEN

OUR NEW BOOK

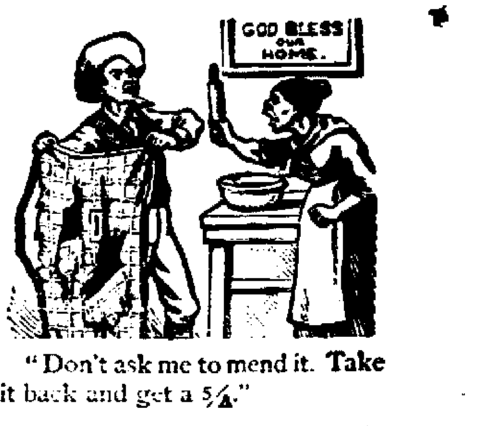
[illegible] ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y. [illegible]

HEED OUR WORDS!

TO WEAK MEN

Suffering from the effects of youthful errors, early [illegible] FREE of charge. [illegible]

Prof. F. C. FOWLER, Moodus, Conn.



GOD BLESS OUR HOME.

"Don't ask me to mend it. Take it back and get a 5/A."

FREE—Get from your dealer free, the 5/A Book. It has handsome pictures and valuable information about horses.

Two or three dollars for a 5/A Horse Blanket will make your horse worth more and eat less to keep warm.

Ask for
- 5/A Five Mile
- 5/A Boss Stable
- 5/A Electric
- 5/A Extra Test

30 other styles at prices to suit everybody. If you can't get them from your dealer, write us.

5/A HORSE BLANKETS ARE THE STRONGEST.

NONE GENUINE WITHOUT THE 5/A LABEL. Manuf'd by WM. AYRES & SONS, Philada., who make the famous Horse Brand Baker Blankets.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

[illegible] SUPPRESSED [illegible] IRREGULAR [illegible] MENSTRUATION

[illegible] CHANGE OF LIFE [illegible] WILL BE AVOIDED

BOOK TO WOMAN MAILED FREE

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO. ATLANTA GA.

[illegible]

H. T. HOBERMAN & CO.

HUMPHREYS' VETERINARY SPECIFICS

For Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Dogs, Hogs, AND POULTRY.

500 Page Book on Treatment of Animals and Chart Sent Free.

CURES Fevers, Congestions, Inflammation
A.A.—Spinal Meningitis, Milk Fever.
B.B.—Strains, Lameness, Rheumatism.
C.C.—Distemper, Nasal Discharges.
D.D.—Bots or Grubs, Worms.
E.E.—Coughs, Heaves, Pneumonia.
F.F.—Colic or Gripes, Bellyache.
G.G.—Miscarriage, Hemorrhages.
H.H.—Urinary and Kidney Diseases.
I.I.—Eruptive Diseases, Mange.
J.K.—Diseases of Digestion, Paralysis.

Single Bottle (over 50 doses), - - .60
Stable Case, with Specifics, Manual, Veterinary Cure Oil and Medicator, $7.00
Jar Veterinary Cure Oil, - - 1.00

Sold by Druggists; or Sent Prepaid anywhere and in any quantity on Receipt of Price.
Humphreys' Medicine Co., 109 Fulton St., N. Y.

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFIC No. 28

In use 30 years. The only successful remedy for Nervous Debility, Vital Weakness, and Prostration, from over-work or other causes. $1 per vial, or 5 vials and large vial powder, for $5.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS, or sent postpaid on receipt of price.—Humphreys' Medicine Co., 109 Fulton St., N. Y.

"Hello! Tom. Glad to see you, old fellow! It's almost ten years since we were married. Sit down; let's have an experience meeting. How's the wife?"

"Oh! she's so-so, same as usual,—always wanting something I can't afford."

"Well, we all want something more than we've got. Don't you?"

"Yes; but I guess 'want will be my master.' I started to keep down expenses; and now Lil says I'm 'mean,' and she's tired of saving and never having anything to show for it. I saw your wife down street, and she looked as happy as a queen!"

"I think she is; and we are economical, too,—have to be. My wife can make a little go further than anyone I ever knew, yet she's always surprising me with some dainty contrivance that adds to the comfort and beauty of our little home, and she's always 'merry as a lark.' When I ask how she manages it, she always laughs and says: '[illegible] my secret!' But I think I've discovered her 'secret.' When we married, we both knew we should have to be very careful, but she made one condition: she would have her Magazine. And she was right! I wouldn't do without it myself [illegible] the subscription price. We read it [illegible] from the title-page to the last word; [illegible] keep our hearts young; the synopsis of important events and scientific matters keeps [illegible] that I can talk understandingly of [illegible] my wife is always trying some new [illegible] the household department; she makes [illegible] dresses and those for the children, [illegible] patterns for nothing, with the [illegible] and we saved Joe when he was so sick [illegible] by doing just as directed in the [illegible] But I can't tell you half!"

"What [illegible] Magazine is it?"

"[illegible] Family Magazine, and—"

"[illegible] what Lil wanted so bad, [illegible]"

[illegible] where you made a [illegible] better rectify as [illegible] right here, [illegible] have a chance [illegible] next month. [illegible]

[illegible] Sold by Druggists. PRICE $1.00.

A JOLLIFICATION!

THAT is what every man, woman and child in Marion county has cause to join in after they have thoroughly tested our bargain offering. Clothing is a necessity, and the most advantageous purchases possible are quite necessary. Where to buy best is always an annoying problem—there are so many claims of "best and cheapest." We solve the problem for you. To prove the solution we ask you to call at the Campbell corner.

Nobody can equal us in supplying the wants of the male population. Ours is the great Clothing Headquarters. With our great Ready-made Clothing stock we carry a Merchant Tailoring department that is excelled nowhere in Central Ohio, and in the Ready-made line and Men's Furnishings we acknowledge no leaders. If you want an Overcoat, a cheap Work Suit, a Business Suit, a neat Dress Suit, or Underwear, we can supply you as well as anybody on earth, and, mind you, the prices recommend a general jollification. Call in.

Eckhart

The Tailor. The Clothier.

A GENTLEMEN—Fond of traveling, a good talker, can find a pleasant position, good money. Call at Hoberman & Co.'s and ask for Dr. Kelly.

FOR RENT—Rooms suitable for dwellings in Fite Block. Inquire of I. Fite. 288 tf

FOR RENT—A new dwelling on north East street, at low price. Inquire of James Malloy.

FOR RENT—House of six rooms, on east Center street, to responsible parties only. S. T. Beerbower. 302-1-w

FOR RENT—Nice front room on first floor, with grate, near Hotel Marion. 301 tf CHASE & HUNTER.

FOR SALE—The Charles Smith residence property, on west Center street. Possession given immediately. Inquire of George E. Smith. 301tf

—Turney's time. 180

—Council meeting tonight.

—Will Smith is reported on the sick list.

—Judge Norris convened court this morning.

—Miss Mary Scanlan spent Sunday with her parents at LaRue.

—Mrs. Daniel Rose, of Marseilles, was the guest of friends here last week.

—The monthly settlement between the Big Four and Erie was made today.

—H. E. Allen is here from Paulding to attend the reception in honor of his brother.

—Mrs. Holloway, of Kansas City, is the guest of Mrs. Copeland, on west Center street.

—A number from here contemplate attending the Gilmore concert at Delaware Thursday night.

—Operator English, of the Big Four force, is back at his place here, having charge of the night office.

—Will Moore is home from Indianapolis. Will is still on the editorial staff of the Western Sportsman.

—John Essex, Jr., has been transferred from the Erie office to the C. and E. freight office at the junction.

—Sandwiches, cake and coffee will be served Friday evening at the chrysanthemum reception. Price 15 cents.

—Operator Walker, of the Big Four here, has returned to his duties, after a short illness at his home in Harper.

—The infant child of Mr. Baxton, of the firm of Buxton & McClure, is quite seriously ill at his home on south West street.

—There will be a fine collection of flowers on sale at the chrysanthemum social Friday evening, at J. J. Hane's.

—Catarrh indicates impure blood, and to cure it, take Hood's Sarsaparilla which purifies the blood. Sold by all druggists.

—The two jolly, pleasant C. and E. conductors, McCollough and Dill, took dinner Sunday with that able statesman of the Third ward, Councilman Issleib.

—The committee on the anniversary social of the Free Baptist church are requested to be present at the Y. P. S. C. E. prayer meeting tomorrow evening.

—Miss Carrie Linder, retoucher at Moore's gallery, has been confined to her home for the past week on account of sickness but is now able to be about again.

—Mr. and Mrs. James McGill, of Urbana, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kulencamp, on north West street, over Sunday, returning to their home this morning.

—Another man is to be put on the day force at the junction telegraph office, work being so heavy there that it requires three men. It is not known who will take the position.

—A. M. Tucker, general superintendent of the Erie, passed through here this morning on his way to Chicago. He was in his private car and was accompanied by a number of other officials of the road.

—Messrs. G. S. Brown and W. B. Mann, of Mt. Gilead, have purchased ground of J. W. Freeland, at the corner of Center street and Kensington Place, and will erect a building in which they expect to establish a general store. They also expect to erect a large storage room at once. East Marion is bound to have an occasional boom.

—Dr. Sweney was called to LaRue today on professional business.

—Miss Artie B. Turley, who has been living at the home of Dr. Hensley, will depart this week for an extended visit among friends in West Virginia.

—Miss Fannie Bonner and Master Harry Bonner, of Peoria, Ill., are in the city, visiting their brother and father, Dr. Bonner, the veterinary surgeon.

—The Women's Mission Society of the Free Baptist church will meet at Mrs. Howard Bolander's, on west Center street, Wednesday, 12th, at 2:30 p.m.

—In the list of names of farmers published in last week's STAR, forbidding hunting and trespassing, the name of John Morganthaler was omitted. This was an error.

—Perry Bumgartner and Miss Lewellen Rider, both of this county, were married at the U. B. parsonage last Thursday, Nov. 6th., by Rev. J. I. Hensley.

—Miss Maggie Sommerville, of Butte City, Montana, accompanied by her little niece, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Hensley, on south West street. She will leave this week for a visit with friends in W. Va.

—The STAR has caught the drift of the rumor that is afloat today in regard to a local doctor putting himself in a compromising position with another man's wife, but doesn't desire to indulge in a sensation of that kind without the stability of facts.

—The big hearted boys of the Huber works have raised a purse of about one hundred dollars for the relief of Mrs. Gus Royce, whose husband died last week and left her in almost destitute circumstances. We understand that another paper is in circulation among citizens for charitable subscriptions for Mrs. Royce's aid.

—A north East street married lady, whose husband is employed in another town, seems to have several "lovers" among Marion men, two of whom met at her house one afternoon the later part of last week and had a fight, one of the men using a broomstick on the other, bruising him severely. No arrests were made, so we will mention no names, but north East street people are so indignant over the way things have been conducted at that house that they threaten dire vengence if the proceedings are not stopped.

Will Remain in Marion.

An impression seems to have gone out that The Prescott Railroad Equipment company is figuring upon having a few machines manufactured at this point and subsequently locating elsewhere. We are authorized to state that no such idea prevails in the minds of any member of the company. Mr. Harraman states that it was deemed advisable not to undertake to erect buildings at this late season of the year, besides a little time will be required in determining the exact needs of the company in this particular. If sufficient encouragement is given the enterprise to justify its location in Marion it will remain here and in any case to subserve the best interests of all the stockholders will be the governing motive in any arrangement the company may make for the transaction of its business.

To the People.

Marion, O., Nov. 10, 1890.

There are now twenty-one mailing boxes up in the different districts and I hope the people will avail themselves of and use them, as the mail will be gathered twice a day from them. You can deposit your mail in them with impunity, as there is a severe penalty on anyone caught tampering with these boxes. I would just say now to the boys that if they are caught putting sticks or stones or in any way tampering with these boxes they will be dealt with according to the statute, which is very severe. The police have instructions to watch them, and anyone who sees anybody meddling with the boxes will confer a favor by reporting them to this office. S. F[illegible]son, P. M.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned is dissolved this day by mutual consent.

W. C. Bl[illegible], M. D.
E. A. Thom[illegible], M. D.

C. and E. Collision.

[Huntington Herald.]

Cars were badly piled up and ditched on the C. and E. Friday morning. First section of freight train No. 84, William Laughlin, conductor, collided with a belt train near Chicago. Louie Beckstein, who was a member of the crew, received some injuries and was brought to the city Friday evening. He was cut about the head and suffered bruises about his person, but is not seriously hurt. He makes his home here but his folks reside in Fort Wayne. This is the first accident the road has had for some time and it is understood this was the fault of the other line.

Let Your New House Dry Out.

Many houses were built during the summer, and now people are hurrying into them, not stopping to think that there is too great haste in occupying a house after its completion. In many places there is such demand for dwellings, and often business apartments, that, as soon as finished, they are occupied. This is especially true of small dwellings. There is more danger in this than is supposed. There is no health in dampness and mold under any circumstances, and in living apartments, where the tendency is toward poor ventilation, the dampness of newly finished houses contributes largely to ill health.

In the town of Basle, Switzerland, a regulation has been adopted which prevents newly built houses from being occupied until four months after completion. Under many circumstances so long a time as above specified is not necessary, but it is often well to err on the side of safety. The size of the house, its location, surroundings, the material used and the state of the weather enter into the consideration of the time necessary in which a building should become sufficiently dry for occupancy.—New York Journal.

A Siberian Exile's Story.

An escaped Siberian exile, who has been in England for some time under the name of Felix Brant, is now made known by the new paper called Free Russia as Felix Volkhovsky. The reason for his retention of an assumed name for some time after his safe arrival on free soil helps one to realize the terrible anxieties of the unfortunate men who offend the Russian government. He was afraid that his child might be seized by that government, and that they would punish him for his escape through his daughter.

She is now safe in London, and the anxieties of the parent on her account are at an end. He endured seven years of solitary confinement in a Russian fortress, and eleven years' exile in Siberia for political opinions in which we are told terrorism had no part. Eluding the vigilance of the Siberian authorities, he made his way right across Siberia to the Pacific and so to Canada.—London News.

Chautauqua Has Some Apples.

Some western apple dealers arrived in this city Tuesday, and will make a tour of the county for the purpose of buying apples for western markets. Contrary to earlier expectations, the apple crop in Chautauqua county was a fair crop. There will not only be enough to supply the local market, but some for shipping as well. A peculiarity is that one orchard will yield fairly well while a neighboring one will be barren. One farmer said, "Last year, which was a better one for apples than this, I did not have an apple for sale, while this year I will have nearly a hundred bushels."—Jamestown Journal.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step into nervous prostration. You need a Nerve Tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great Nerve Tonic and Alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the liver and kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50 cents, at Flocken's drug store.

Accidentally [illegible] His Sister.

St. Louis, [illegible] Charlton, 8 years old, [illegible], Clisa, 6 years old, were [illegible] yesterday morning at their home, [illegible] South Sixth street. The boy [illegible] small shotgun. Accidentally the [illegible] discharged, and its contents entered [illegible] of his little sister killing her instantly.

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at Denison & Co's, and Hoberman & Co's, who also sell, and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures fluttering, short breath, etc.

At Kansas City, Mo., a special policeman David H. Green shot and killed ex-Special Policeman Joseph Beaumont who accused him of circulating reports about him which caused him to be discharged!

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, [illegible] wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have [illegible] and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at Flocken's drug store.

It Worked.

A [illegible] Ind., wanted to [illegible] color. She [illegible] long, and [illegible] order before [illegible] of the barrel hit her [illegible] smashed in the [illegible] Free Press.

Taken by a Hansom Cabman.

People little know what a terrible power rests in the hands of a hansom cabman. They will realize it now when they hear how strongly and, it must be added, how usefully it was applied in the case of one William Jones. It appears that this person, who described himself as a commercial traveler, hired a hansom, and was driven about the town for several hours. For certain reasons the cabman suspected that there was something wrong about his fare. So what did he do but let down the front glass lights, and keep them down, thereby effectually imprisoning the vainly protesting traveler. He then drove to the Peckham police station and gave up his prisoner.

He had done well, for William Jones turned out to be a very bad character; in fact, an old and convicted burglar, whose suspicious movements had lately attracted the serious attention of the police. Brought up at the Lambeth police court, on the charge of being disorderly and as a person under police supervision, supposed to be getting his livelihood by dishonest means, he was sent to prison with hard labor for twelve months. The hansom cab has thus figured, for the first time in history, as a thief trap. It is to be hoped that its newly discovered and awful power will never be employed at the expense of the innocent.—London Telegraph.

Pilgrims to Mecca in Ill Luck.

Cruel ill luck has befallen some of the Indian pilgrims to Mecca this year. The pilgrim steamer Deccan, which left Bombay for Jeddah on the 17th of June, had on board more than 1,200 of these pious Mohammedans, packed, it is said, as usual, "like herrings in a barrel." It is not surprising that during the voyage six cases of cholera occured. This led to the ship being detained in quarantine at the great Red sea port for ten days. When this period had elapsed another case was declared, which involved a second quarantine.

By this time the period of the sacred ceremony of walking round the kaabah or temple of the prophet and kissing the black stone said to have been given by an angel to Abraham was at an end, and the poor pilgrims having spent all they had upon this pious duty were compelled to return as they came. It is painfully significant that the Deccan brought back 122 persons less than she took out. A similar incident, it is said, has not occurred for more than half a century. It is regarded by the faithful as a visitation of divine displeasure.—London News.

On the Watch.

A man about 55 years old, accompanied by his son, a boy of 14, was waiting for a train in the Grand Central depot the other day, when a man on the same bench, who had been reading a paper, folded it up and asked:

"Has the McKinley bill affected your neighborhood any?"

"The what?"

"The McKinley bill. How does it strike you?"

The old man didn't know anything about the bill, and he was fishing around for a reply, when the boy called out:

"Father, you keep still! He wants you to say that it strikes you good or bad, and then he'll call you a liar and offer to fight the both of us!"—New York Sun.

Christopher Columbus' Home.

The municipality of Genoa has it is reported consented to restore the house in which Christopher Columbus lived. It is rapidly falling into decay and has long stood in need of repair. Originally, when Domenico Colombo, Christopher's frther, inhabited the house, in 1457, it was of two stories only, but another was added in 1683, while the serious damage to the building caused by the bombardment of Genoa by Louis XIV was being repaired. The house at Valladolid, where Columbus died in poverty in 1509, is also to be restored. It is now used as a stable; but the municipality of the town intend to purchase it and turn it into a museum dedicated to the great explorer.—London Tit-Bits.

English Farms Vacant.

An enormous number of farms have become vacant this Michaelmas, and all over England it appears to be extremely probable that land owners will have them thrown upon their hands, as in most counties there are half a dozen vacant holdings for every eligible applicant. In Hampshire, Kent, Sussex and other counties, where the principal land owners already have thousands of acres unoccupied, the prospect is really very serious. It is nearly impossible to let arable farms on any terms, and even good grazing farms will only find tenants at reduced rentals. The Kent hop farms are reported to be difficult to let even at half the present rents.—London World.

Florida is putting its best resorts in readiness for the expected winter tourists. Lawn tennis courts are being arranged, vegetables are being planted in large quantities, boats are being prepared and as the announcements say, "No efforts will be spared to make life a pleasure and to give such healthful outdoor sports as will build up those who are run down from overwork, or will give a new lease of life to those afflicted with pulmonary or asthmatical diseases."

One of the points especially noted by military observers during the recent maneuvers abroad, where smokeless powder was used, was that in a clear atmosphere, unobscured by the smoke of battle, all bright accoutrements were seen at a great distance, thus betraying the positions of the various bodies of troops.

The czarowitch, the eldest son of the czar, who is to make an American tour, is a handsome young man of 23. He has a tall figure, a powerful physique and is a colonel in the Imperial guard. He is said to show considerable talent for the military profession.

It is estimated that one horse power of electric energy will furnish ample heat for a street car without smoke or dust or reduction of seating capacity.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Flocken

Height of Cruelty.

Nervous women seldom receive the sympathy they deserve. While often the pictures of health, they are constantly ailing. To withhold sympathy from these unfortunates is the height of cruelty. They have a weak heart, causing shortness of breath, fluttering, pain in side, weak and hungry spells, and finally swelling of ankles, oppression, choking, smothering and dropsy. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is just the thing for them. For their nervousness, headache, weakness, etc., his Restorative Nervine is unequaled. Fine treatise on "Heart and Nervous Diseases" and marvelous testimonials free. Sold and guaranteed by Denison & Co., and Hoberman & Co.

A Fall in Crockery.

I was amused by a sign that I saw the other day. It was prompted, no doubt, by the shopkeeper's enterprise, and announced a "Great Fall of Crockery and Furnishing Goods." Crockery that had suffered a very great fall you would hardly care to buy.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Catarrh, Hay or Rose Fever.

The cleansing, soothing and healing properties of Darbys Prophylactic Fluid are experienced in the treatment and cure of Catarrh and kindred complaints. The Fluid soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and removes the offensive odor that characterizes the disease. Should the inflammation have reached the throat use the Fluid as a gargle to allay the inflammation and to disinfect.

GOOD, - DRY,
Second-Growth
ASH
STOVEWOOD
FOR
$1.50 Per Load!
AT Prendergasts'.

Local Time Card.

BIG FOUR.
(In effect on and after May 18, 1890.)

WEST.		EAST.
No. 3	10.12 a. m.	No. 10	8.41 a. m.
No. 7	6.05 p. m.	No. 2	6:05 p. m.
No. 9	12:50 a. m.	No. 18	9.44 p. m.
No. 17	4.17 a. m.	No. [illegible]	3.22 a. m.
No. 81, local.	7.00 a. m.	No. 80, local.	2:35 p. m.
No. 84, *M. Ac	8.29 a. m.	No. 82, *M. Ac	3:45 p. m.

*Marion accommodation; runs no farther west than this city.

C., H. V. AND T.

SOUTH.		NORTH.
No. 31	6.30 am	No. 30	5.40 am
No. 33	11.35 am	No. 32	9.15 am
No. 35	5.21 pm	No. 34	1.14 pm
No. 37	11.10 pm	No. 36	8.14 pm

All trains run Sunday but 34 and 33. Trains 30 and 37 run only between Marion and Columbus.

C. AND A.

WEST.		EAST.
No. 1	9.30 a. m.	No. 8	11:25 p. m.
No. 5	12:35 p. m.	No. 2	7:00 p. m.
No. 3	11:20 p. m.	No. 12	4:30 a. m.
No. 7	8:15 p. m.	No. 6	11:30 a. m.

S. WILSON & SON
NURSERYMEN
AND FLORISTS

Green-house and Gardens on East Center Street, corner of Greenwood.

OUR
NURSERY - STOCK!

Is the timely subject just now. This is the time to plant your trees. We have a stock of all the choice fruits—very desirable variety, and the young trees are good. We know it, because they are of our own growing and grafting, and we know they are true to name. We are right here, too, to guarantee them and make the guarantee good. We can do better for you than any agent traveling, in both prices and fruits.

We also carry a full stock of grape vines, ornamental shrubs and vines, and all the small fruits.

FLORAL - DEPARTMENT!

The capacity of our green-houses have been doubled in the past year, and our stock is doubled in extent. We have plants for decoration at all times.

CUT FLOWERS A SPECIALTY

Our design work is equal to that of any city and less in price. Floral decorations for weddings and parties supplied promptly. Orders for funerals are given especial attention.

☞ Ladies should order their Bulbs for Fall planting now.

Give Us Your Orders!

S. WILSON & SON.
TELEPHONE 61.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE STAR AND KEEP POSTED ON THE NEWS.

CHILDREN'S DRESSES!

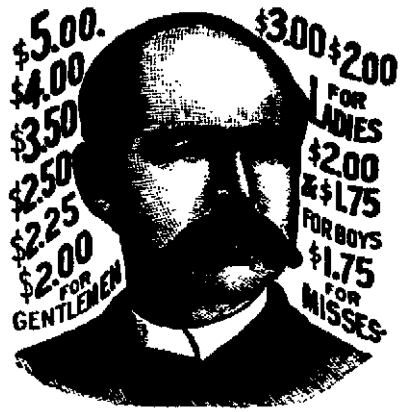
We are sole agents for Techner & Frank's

CHILD'S JERSEY DRESSES

The best and neatest thing of the kind sold, just the thing for children from 3 to 12 years. They are warm, neat and wear well. They make cheaper dresses for children than can be secured by buying goods and making them.

Jno. Frash.

CAUTION W. L. Douglas Shoes are warranted, and every pair has his name and price stamped on bottom



W. L. DOUGLAS
$3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

Fine Calf and Laced Waterproof Grain.

The excellence and wearing qualities of this shoe cannot be better shown than by the strong endorsements of its thousands of constant wearers.

$5.00 Genuine Hand-sewed, an elegant and stylish dress Shoe which commends itself.
$4.00 Hand-sewed Welt. A fine calf Shoe unequalled for style and durability.
$3.50 Goodyear Welt is the standard dress Shoe, at a popular price.
$3.50 Policeman's Shoe is especially adapted for railroad men, farmers, etc.
All made in Congress, Button and Lace.

$3 & $2 SHOES FOR LADIES,

have been most favorably received since introduced and the recent improvements make them superior to any shoes sold at these prices.

Ask your dealer, and if he cannot supply you send direct to factory enclosing advertised price, or a postal for order blanks.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

SOLD BY
J. E. RHOADS.

LEADING OPTICIAN
OF
CENTRAL OHIO.

DR. B. MINCER, the Eminent Optician, has settled here permanently, having rented the east room of the Fite Block, East Center Street, and opened a line of Optical goods that is equal to any city establishment. With 36 years of practical experience, during which time thousands have been perfectly fitted with glasses, and, with a perfect stock of goods at hand, Dr. Mincer is prepared to fit your eyes perfectly.

Gold Frame Spectacles at from $3 to $20, and Steel, Rubber and Silver Framed Glasses at from 50c to $12, the prices depending on the Lenses. All glasses fitted without instrumental test, and the eyes are not tired out with repeated trials, but glasses fitted at once, where fitting is at all possible. Parties needing glasses are invited to call whether they buy or not.

H. M. AULT'S
Fire and Tornado
INSURANCE AGENCY!

OFFICE: Bennett Block, First Stairway East of Postoffice.

A Site for the Fair

Has been the interesting theme discussed by thousands in the past few months. I wish to interest you in a discussion. "The Site for the Fair," meaning, of course, the Ladies of Marion, is the Delightful Display of New Styles in

LADIES' FOOTWEAR

Now on view at our store. I can fit any foot, furnish any style of Shoe and guarantee all work to be of the best. I want to

MATCH THE CHICAGO FEAT

Of winning the World's Fair by a greater feat—winning the custom of the Fair of Marion. If I can win I can hold it by quality and prices.

JOHN H. STOLL,
SOUTH MAIN STREET, - - - - - MARION, OHIO.

WILLIAMS & LEFFLER,
THE LEADING
Merchant Tailors,
ARE NOW SHOWING ALL THE
Novelties and Staples of the Season
IN
Fall and Winter Goods!
A Perfect Fit and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

FRAME & BEICHER,
Undertakers and Furniture Dealers!

We Offer During the Next 60 Days

OAK BEDROOM SUITS!

Which must and will be sold cheap. Each suit consists of 10 pieces.
Call and see them and get prices.

UNDERTAKING

Our Undertaking Department is complete. All calls attended to promptly, day or night. Bodies Embalmed and prepared carefully by the latest approved methods, at reasonable prices. For conducting funerals we need no recommendations.

FISHER BLOCK, WEST CENTER STREET, MARION, OHIO.

The Marion Daily Star.

Published Every Evening Except Sunday

—BY—

W. G. HARDING.

TERMS:

By Mail............$4 per Year in Advance

Delivered by Carrier......10 Cts. per Week

MONDAY, - - NOVEMBER 16.

SHOES OF THE WORLD.

The Portuguese shoe has a wooden sole and heel, with a vamp made of patent leather fancifully showing the flesh side of the skin.

The Persian footgear is a raised shoe and is often made a foot high. It is made of light wood richly inlaid, with a strap extending over the instep.

The Algerian shoe in appearance is not unlike the light English wooden clogs. This shoe is made entirely of leather in the simplest form and usually without any ornamentation.

The Arenian shoe has a leather sole and heel, without a counter and back quarter. The vamp is made of felt and is beautifully ornamented with needlework done in colored silk thread.

The Muscovite shoe is hand woven on a wooden frame, and but little attention is paid to the shape of the foot. Leather is sometimes used, but the sandal is generally made of colored silk cordage and woolen cloth.

The Siam shoe has the form of an ancient canoe with a gondola bow and an open top. The sole is made of wood and the upper of inlaid wood and cloth, and the exterior is elaborately ornamented in colors and with gold and silver.

The sandal worn by the Egyptians is composed of a sole made by sticking together three thicknesses of leather. This is held to the foot by a band passing across the instep. The sandal is beautifully stitched with threads of different colors.

The Mussulman's shoe is of heavy leather. It is adjusted to the foot by a wide leather strap which runs from the heel and buckles over the instep. The only ornamentation is the fastening of two feather plumes on the right side of the sharp toe.

The Russian boot is composed of many pieces of morocco in several colors, put together in a shape to please the taste of the maker or wearer. The foot of the boot is made of heavy calf. The whole boot is beautifully embossed by thread in bright colors.

The Hungarian shoe, or moccasin, is made of rawhide, prepared by a sun curing process. It is bound together with many thongs of rawhide. Loops or thongs extend upward around the ankle and through these loops is passed a strap which is buckled at the side.

The Grecian shoe is made almost entirely of leather, and has a thickly padded sole, with a sharp turn up toe which is surmounted by a large ball of colored wool or hair. The shoe is fleece lined and is gorgeously decorated with beads and ornamental stitching.

The clog worn by the Japanese is of wood, and as viewed from the side is the shape of a boy's sled. It is fastened to the foot by a string which passes between the great and second toe and across the former. A strap, an inch in width and lined with linen, is carried across the instep.

Chinese shoes have no fastening or string, buckle or strap. The upper is made of felt, velvet or other cloth. The sole does not extend to the end of the shoe, but curves upward beneath the ball of the foot. The sole being very thick it gives the wearer an unsteadiness of gait, as though a pair of rockers were fastened to his feet.

MOON SUPERSTITIONS.

In South America a human figure is seen in the moon.

The Chinese see a hare pounding rice in a mortar in the moon.

The Dakota Indians believe that the moon is gnawed by mice.

The Samoan islanders perceive a woman with her child in the moon.

The North American Indians see a gnawing animal in the orb of night.

In the whole of eastern Asia the people see in the moon a rabbit or a hare.

The Polynesians think that the spirits of the dead are nourished by the moon.

The Siamese perceive in part of the moon a hare, and in another part a woman tilling the ground.

On the ancient monuments in Central America the moon appears as a jar or a shell whence a rabbit shaped animal is springing.

The Scandinavians believe the moon once carried off two children, as they came from the water bearing a jar, and they can still be seen with it in the orb.

The Hottentots imagine that the moon monthly suffers from headaches; when they grow too severe she covers her head with her hand and hides it from our eyes.

One of the tribes of northwestern India, who regard the monthly disappearance of the moon as burning, have connected the spots with this idea, and believe them to be the remains of ashes.

The custom of lifting the hat had its origin when knights never appeared in public except in full armor, but upon entering an assembly of friends the knight removed his helmet, the act signifying, "I am safe in the presence of my friends."

The Esquimaux have a thoroughly national tradition. One day Aninga, the moon, pursued his sister, the sun, but when he had caught her the sun turned and smeared his face with soot, traces of which still remain.

STRAY BITS.

Massachusetts schools cost over $7,500,000 a year.

A traveler has discovered that brunettes are not the rule in Spain. Many Spanish women are fair, with blue eyes.

The smallest division of money in Montana is a "bit." "Two bits" make a quarter, which purchases a drink and a cigar.

At the funeral of an aged lady at Woolwich, England, her seven sons, all clergymen of the Church of England, were present.

There are 200,000 women in the Women's Christian Temperance union, 15,000 in the King's Daughters, 100,000 in the Women's Relief corps and 35,000 in the Eastern Star.

A new invention in musical instruments brought out in Germany is called a "bowed piano." It resembles a pianoforte frame, contains six violins, two violas and two violoncellos.

In many offices a potato is used instead of a pen wiper. The juicy tuber holds the pen steady, removes at once all ink from the nib, prevents the process of corrosion, and spares many a well loved pen to a ripe old age.

JOURNEY TO NAZARETH.

DR. TALMAGE BID JERUSALEM GOOD-BY AND JOURNEYS NORTHWARD.

"Where the Blue Waves Roll Nightly on Deep Galilee"—Last Look at Mount Zion, Mount Calvary and the Mount of Olives.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 9.—Today Dr. Talmage preached the seventh of his course of sermons descriptive of his recent tour in Palestine. As on previous Sundays the sermon was preached before two large audiences. In the morning it was preached in the Academy of Music in this city, and at night Dr. Talmage preached it again in the New York Academy of Music which The Christian Herald continues to rent for these services. During the six months thus far held in New York, 90,000 people have endeavored to hear Dr. Talmage preach. Of these 30,000 have been admitted and 60,000 have been turned away for lack of accommodation. Following is the sermon from the text, "So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north" (Ezekiel viii, 5):

At 1 o'clock on a December afternoon through Damascus gate we are passing out of Jerusalem for a journey northward. Ho! for Bethel, with its stairs, the bottom step of which was a stone pillow; and Jacob's well, with its immortal colloquy; and Nazareth, with its divine boy in his father's carpenter shop, and the most glorious lake that ever rippled or flashed

Blue Galilee, sweet Galilee,
The lake where Jesus loved to be,

and Damascus, with its crooked street called Straight, and a hundred places charged and surcharged with apostolic, evangelistic, prophetic, patriarchal, kingly and Christly reminiscences.

In traveling along the roads of Palestine I am impressed, as I could not otherwise have been, with the fact that Christ for the most part went afoot. We find him occasionally on a boat, and once riding in a triumphal procession, as it is sometimes called, although it seems to me that the hosannas of the crowd could not have made a ride on a stubborn, unimpressive and funny creature like that which pattered with him into Jerusalem very much of a triumph. But we are made to understand that generally he walked. How much that means only those know who have gone over the distance traversed by Christ.

We are accustomed to read that Bethany is two miles from Jerusalem. Well, any man in ordinary health can walk two miles without fatigue. But not more than one man out of a thousand can walk from Bethany to Jerusalem without exhaustion. It is over the Mount of Olives, and you must climb up among the rolling stones and descend where exertion is necessary to keep you from falling prostrate. I, who am accustomed to walk fifteen or twenty miles without lassitude, tried part of this road over the Mount of Olives, and confess I would not want to try it often, such demand does it make upon one's physical energies. Yet Christ walked it twice a day—in the morning from Bethany to Jerusalem, and in the evening from Jerusalem to Bethany.

CHRIST'S WALK TO NAZARETH.

Likewise it seemed a small thing that Christ walked from Jerusalem to Nazareth. But it will take us four days of hard horseback riding, sometimes on a trot and sometimes on a gallop, to do it this week. The way is mountainous in the extreme. To those who went up to the Tip Top house on Mount Washington, before the railroad was laid, I will say that this journey from Jerusalem to Nazareth is like seven such American journeys. So, all up and down and across and recrossing Palestine, Jesus walked. Ahab rode, David rode, Solomon rode, Herod rode, Antony rode. But Jesus walked. With swollen ankles and sore muscles of the legs, and bruised heel and stiff joints and panting lungs and faint head, along the roads, and where there were no roads at all, Jesus walked.

We tried to get a new horse other than that on which we had ridden on the journey to the Dead sea, for he had faults which our close acquaintanceship had developed. But after some experimenting with other quadrupeds of that species, and finding that all horses, like their riders, have faults we concluded to choose a saddle on that beast whose faults we were most prepared to pity or resist. We rode down through the valley and then up on Mount Scopus and, as our dragoman tells us that this is the last opportunity we shall have of looking at Jerusalem, we turn our horse's head toward the city and take a long, sad and thrilling look at the religious capital of our planet. This is the most impressive view of the most tremendous city of all time.

On [illegible] around this hill the armies of the crusaders at the first sight of the city threw themselves on their faces in worship. Here most of the besieging armies encamped the night before opening their volleys of death against Jerusalem. Our last look! Farewell, Mount Zion, Mount Moriah, Mount of Olives, Mount Calvary! Will we never see them again? Never. The world is so large and life is so short, and there are so many things we have never seen, that we cannot afford to duplicate visits or see anything more than once. [illegible] of gray rock [illegible] thousand years of architecture [illegible] fields. [illegible] well [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] last look I see [illegible] an agitation of body, mind and [illegible] indescribable.

WHEN ISRAEL WAS IN ANARCHY.

And now like Ezekiel in my text, I lift up mine eyes the way toward the north. Near here was one of the worst tragedies of the ages mentioned in the Bible. A hospitable old man coming home at eventide from his work in the fields finds two strangers, a husband and wife, proposing to lodge in the street because no shelter is offered them, and invites them to come in and spend the night in his home. During the night the ruffians of the neighborhood conspired together and surrounded the house, and left the woman dead on the doorstep, and the husband, to rally in revenge the twelve tribes, cut the corpse of the woman into twelve parts and sent a twelfth of it to each tribe, and the fury of the nation was roused, and a peremptory demand was made for the surrender of the assassins, and, the demand refused, in one day twenty thousand people were left dead on the field and the next day eighteen thousand. Wherever our horse today plants his foot in those ancient times a corpse lay, and the roads were crossed by red rivulets of carnage.

Now we pass on where seven youths were put to death and their bodies gibbeted or hung in chains, not for anything they had themselves done, but as a reparation for what their father and grandfather, Saul, had done. Burial was denied these youths from May until November. Rizpah, the mother of two of these dead boys, appoints herself as sentinel to guard the seven corpses from beak of raven and tooth of wolf and paw of lion. She pitches a black tent on the rock close by the gibbets. Rizpah by day sits on the ground in front of her tent, and when a vulture begins to lower out of the noonday sky seeking its prey among the gibbets Rizpah rises, her long hair flying in the wind, and, swinging her arms wildly about, shoos away the bird of prey until it retreats to its eyrie. At night she rests under the shadow of her tent and sometimes falls into a drowsiness or half sleep. But the step of a jackal among the dry leaves or the panting of a hyena arouses her, and with the fury of a maniac she rushes out upon the rock crying, "Away! Away!" and then, examining the gibbets to see that they still keep their burden, returns again to her tent till some swooping wing from the midnight sky or some growling monster on the rock again wakes her.

THE LONE WATCH OF RIZPAH.

A mother watching her dead children through May, June, July, August, September and October: What a vigil! Painters have tried to put upon canvas the scene, and they succeeded in sketching the hawks in the sky and the panthers crawling out from the jungle, but they fail to give the warmness, the earnestness, the supernatural courage, the infinite self sacrifice of Rizpah, the mother. A mother in the quiet home watching by the casket of a dead child for one night exerts the artist to his utmost; but who is sufficient to put upon canvas a mother for six months of midnights guarding her whole family, dead and gibbeted upon the mountains?

Go home, Rizpah! You must be awfully tired. You are sacrificing your reason and your life for those whom you can never bring back again to your bosom. As I say that from the darkest midnight of the century Rizpah turns upon me and cries: "How dare you tell me to go home? I am a mother. I am not tired. You might as well expect God to get tired as for a mother to get tired. I cared for those boys when they lay on my breast in infancy and I will not forsake them now that they are dead. Interrupt me not. There stoops an eagle that I must drive back with my agonized cry. There is a panther I must beat back with my club!"

Do you know what that scene by our roadside in Palestine makes me think of? It is no unusual scene. Right here in these three cities by the American sea coast there are a thousand cases this moment worse than that. Mothers watching boys that the rum saloon, that annex of hell, has gibbeted in a living death. Boys hung in chains of evil habit they cannot break. The father may go to sleep after waiting until twelve o'clock at night for the ruined boy to come home and, giving it up, he may say, "Mother, come to bed; there's no use sitting up any longer." But mother will not go to bed. It is one o'clock in the morning. It is half past one. It is two o'clock. It is half past two when he comes staggering through the hall.

Do you say that young man is yet alive. No, he is dead. Dead to his father's entreaties. Dead to his mother's prayers. Dead to the family altar where he was reared. Dead to all the holy influences that once inspired him. Twice dead. Only a corpse of what he once was. Gibbeted before God and men and angels and devils. Chained [illegible] cold [illegible] father [illegible] others [illegible] but his [illegible] After he [illegible] [illegible] Mother, [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

A[illegible] political parties of this country doing? [illegible] They are taking care not to hurt the feelings of the jackals and buzzards! [illegible] on the shelves of the grog shops [illegible] hoot above the dead. [illegible] to what political party I [illegible] now declare my opinion of the political parties today. Each one is worse than the other, and the only consolation in regard to them is that they have putrefied until they have no more power to rot. Oh that comparatively [illegible] upon which Rizpah looked! She looked upon only seven of the slain. American motherhood and American wifehood this moment are looking upon seventy of the slain, upon seven hundred of the slain, upon seventy thousand of the slain. Woe! woe! woe!

My only consolation on this subject is that foreign capitalists are buying up the American breweries. The present owners see that the doom of that business is coming as surely as that God is not dead. They are unloading upon foreign capitalists and when we can get these breweries into the hands of people living on the other side of the sea our political parties will cease to be afraid of the liquor traffic, and at their conventions nominating presidential candidates will put in their platform a plank as big as the biggest plank of the biggest ocean steamer, saying: "Resolved unanimously that we always have been and always will be opposed to alcoholism."

But I must spur on our Arab steed, and here we come in sight of Beeroth, said to be the place where Joseph and Mary missed the boy Jesus on the way from Jerusalem to Nazareth, going home now from a great national festival. "Where is my child, Jesus?" says Mary. "Where is my child, Jesus?" says Joseph. Among the thousands that are returning from Jerusalem they thought that certainly he was walking on in the crowd. They described him, saying: "He is 12 years old, and of light complexion and blue eyes. A lost child!" Great excitement in all the crowd. Nothing so stirs folks as the news that a child is lost. I shall not forget the scene when, in a great outdoor meeting, I was preaching, and some one stepped on the platform and said that a child was lost. We went on with the religious service, but all our minds were on the lost child.

After a while a man brought on the platform a beautiful little tot that looked like a piece of heaven dropped down, and said, "Here is that child." And I forgot all that I was preaching about, and lifted the child to my shoulder and said, "Here is the lost child, and the mother will come and get her right away, or I will take her home and add her to my own brood!" And some cried and some shouted, and amid all that crowd I instantly detected the mother. Everybody had to get out of her way or be walked over. Hats were nothing and shoulders were nothing and heads were nothing in her pathway, and I realized something of what must have been Mary's anxiety when she lost Jesus, and what her gladness when she found her boy in the temple of Jerusalem, talking with these old ministers of religion, Shammai, Hillel and Betirah.

THE ANSWER TO PRAYER.

I bear down on you today with a mighty comfort. Mary and Joseph said, "Where is our Jesus?" and you say, "Where is John? or where is Henry? or where is George?" Well, I should not wonder if you found him after a while. Where? In the same place where Joseph and Mary found their boy—in the temple. What do I mean by that? I mean, you do your duty toward God and toward your child and you will find him after a while in the kingdom of Christ. Will you say, "I do not have any way of influencing my child?" I answer you have the most tremendous line of influence open right before you. As you write a letter, and there are two or three routes by which it may go, but you want it to go the quickest route, and you put on it "via Southampton," or "via San Francisco," or "via Marseilles," put on your wishes about your child, "via the throne of God." How long will such a good wish take to get to its destination? Not quite as long as the trillionth part of a second. I will prove it: "The promise is, 'Before they call I will answer.'" The moment of your first motion toward such prayer that very instant the blessing will come; or if the prayer be made at 10 o'clock at night, it will be answered [illegible] minutes before ten. "Before they call I will answer."

Well, you say, [illegible] clear [illegible] age [illegible] ... on in years, and I fear I will not live to see him converted. Perhaps not. Nevertheless I think you will find him in the temple, the heavenly temple [illegible] [illegible] last one hundred years [illegible] they had [illegible] to them the salvation of children [illegible] they [illegible] this [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Cheer up, Christian! Cheer up! [illegible] Mary found [illegible] years in the temple [illegible] could not [illegible] of the things he has [illegible] in the Bible is that [illegible] est and believing prayer. [illegible] would wreck his own throne, and [illegible] foundations of his palace [illegible] way, and the [illegible] would be written across the sky, and the eternal government would be disbanded and God himself would become an exile. Keep on with your prayer, and you will yet find [illegible] in the temple, either the temple [illegible] or the temple above.

THE ROBBER OVERCOME.

Out on the western prairies was a happy but isolated home. Father, mother and child. By the sale of cattle quite a large sum of money was one night in that cabin and the father was away. A robber who had heard of the money one night looked in at the window, and the wife and mother of that home saw him, and she was helpless. Her child by her side, she knelt down and prayed among other things for all prodigals who were wandering up and down the world. The robber heard her prayer and was overwhelmed and entered the cabin, and knelt beside her and began to pray. He had come to rob that house, but the prayer of that woman for prodigals reminded him of his mother and her prayers before he became a vagabond, and from that hour he began a new life. Years after that woman was in a city in a great audience, and the orator who came on the platform and plead gloriously for righteousness and God was the man who many years before had looked into the cabin on the prairie as a robber. The speaker and the auditor immediately recognized each other. After so long a time a mother's prayers answered.

But we must hurry on, for the muleteers and baggage men have been ordered to pitch our tents for tonight at Bethel. It is already getting so dark that we have to give up all idea of guiding the horses, and leave them to their own sagacity. We ride down amid mud cabins and into ravines, where the horses leap from depth to depth, rocks below rocks, rocks under rocks. Whoa! Whoa! We dismount in this place, memorable for many things in Bible history, the two more prominent, a theological seminary, where of old they made ministers, and for Jacob's dream. The students of this Bethel Theological seminary were called "sons of the prophets." Here the young men were fitted for the ministry, and those of us who ever had the advantage of such institutions will everlastingly be grateful, and in the calendar of saints, which I read with especial affection, are the doctors of divinity who blessed me with their care.

I thank God that from these theological seminaries there is now coming forth a magnificent crop of young ministers, who are taking the pulpits in all parts of the land. I hail their coming, and tell these young brothers to shake off the somnolence of centuries, and get out from under the dusty shelves of theological discussions which have no practical bearing on this age, which needs to get rid of its sins and have its sorrows comforted. Many of our pulpits are dying of humdrum. People do not go to church because they cannot endure the technicalities and profound explanations of nothing, and sermons about the "eternal generation of the son," and the difference between sub lapsarianism and supra-lapsarianism, and about who Melchisedeck wasn't. There ought to be as much difference between the modes of presenting truth now and in olden time as between a lightning express rail train and a canal boat.

Years ago I went up to the door of a factory in New England. On the outside door I saw the words, "No admittance." I went in and came to another door over which were the words, "No admittance." Of course I went in, and came to the third door inscribed with the words, "No admittance." Having entered this I found the people inside making pins, beautiful pins, useful pins, and nothing but pins. So over the outside door of many of the churches has been practically written the words, "No admittance." Some have entered and have come to the inside door, and found the words, "No admittance." But, persisting, they have come inside, and found us spending our little nice [illegible] pointing out our little differences of theological sentiment [illegible] pins!

THE LADDER FROM EARTH TO HEAVEN.

But most distinguished was Bethel for that famous dream which Jacob had, his head on a collection of stones. He had no trouble in this rocky region in finding a rocky pillow. There is hardly anything else but stone. Yet the people of these lands have a way of drawing their outer garment up over their head and face, and such a pillow I suppose Jacob had under his head. [illegible] was used in the Bible story [illegible] it was not a pillow [illegible] stones. I suppose [illegible] of heaven [illegible] in the [illegible] for with [illegible] often [illegible] night [illegible] a long [illegible] either [illegible] and [illegible] And [illegible] the [illegible] put [illegible] rungs [illegible] they kept coming [illegible] going up [illegible] both ways.

I suppose they had wings, for the [illegible] always represents them as having wings, but this was a ladder on which they used hands and feet to encourage all those of us who have no wings to [illegible] [illegible]

The [illegible] that [illegible] rock of [illegible] saw [illegible] heaven [illegible] The [illegible] most memorable [illegible] dream [illegible] that of John Bunyan [illegible] pillow [illegible] stone [illegible] Bedford jail [illegible] saw the [illegible] I will try [illegible]

[illegible] PILLOWS OF [illegible]

The [illegible] that of Washington sleeping on the ground at Valley Forge, his head on a white pillow of snow, where he saw the vision of a nation emancipated. Columbus slept on a weaver's pillow, but rose from it [illegible] until he could see a new hemisphere. Demosthenes slept [illegible] pillow, but on [illegible] the [illegible] Arkwright slept on a barber's pillow, but went up the ladder till he could see all England quake with the factories he set going. Akenside slept on a butcher's pillow, and took the ladder up till he saw other generations helped by his scholarship.

John Ashworth slept on a poorman's pillow, but took the ladder up until he could see his prayers and exertions bringing thousands of the destitute in England to salvation and heaven. Nearly all those who are today great in merchandise, in statesmanship, in law, in medicine, in art, in literature, were once at the foot of the ladder, and in their boyhood had a pillow hard as Jacob's. They who are born at the top of the ladder are apt to spend their lives in coming down, while those who are at the foot, and their head on a bowlder, if they have the right kind of dream, [illegible] start to rise.

I notice that the angels [illegible] in coming down or going up on Jacob's ladder took it rung by rung. They did not leap to the bottom or jump to the top. So you must [illegible] added to faith, good deed to good deed, in hurry to help [illegible] tion to consecration until you reach the top, rung by rung. Gradual going up from a block of granite to pillar of throne.

That night at Bethel I stood in front of my tent and looked up, and the heavens were full of ladders, first a ladder of clouds, then a ladder of stars, and all up and down the heavens were angels of beauty, angels of consolation, angels of God, ascending and descending. "Surely God is in this place," said Jacob, "and I knew it not." But tonight God is in this place and I know it!

Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills

Act on a new principle—regulating the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new discovery. Dr. Miles' Pills speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles, constipation. Unequaled for men, women, children. Smallest, mildest, surest! Fifty doses, 25 cents. Samples free at Denison & Co., and Hoberman & Co.

Scrofula

Is the most ancient and most general of all diseases. Scarcely a family is entirely free from it, while thousands everywhere are its suffering slaves. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had remarkable success in curing every form of scrofula. The most severe and painful running sores, swellings in the neck or goitre, humor in the eyes, causing partial or total blindness, yield to the powerful effects of this medicine. It thoroughly removes every impurity from the blood.

Scrofula

"My little daughter's life was saved, as we believe, by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she was six months old she had 7 running scrofula sores. One physician advised the amputation of one of her fingers, to which we refused assent. When we began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla a marked improvement was noticed and by a continued use of it her recovery was complete. And she is now, being seven years old, strong and healthy." B. C. JONES, Alna, Lincoln County, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

HE DID—HE DIDN'T!

[illegible] advice [illegible] WEAKNESSES & DISEASES OF MEN.

OUR NEW BOOK

explains all. [illegible] ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y. [illegible]

HEED OUR WORDS!

TO WEAK MEN

Suffering from the effects of youthful errors, early decay, [illegible] FREE of charge. A [illegible] should be read by every man who is nervous and debilitated. Address, Prof. F. C. FOWLER, Moodus, Conn.

GOD BLESS OUR HOME.

"Don't ask me to mend it. Take it back and get a 5/A."

FREE—Get from your dealer free, the 5/A Book. It has handsome pictures and valuable information about horses.

Two or three dollars for a 5/A Horse Blanket will make your horse worth more and eat less to keep warm.

Ask for
- 5/A Five Mile
- 5/A Boss Stable
- 5/A Electric
- 5/A Extra Test

30 other styles at prices to suit everybody. If you can't get them from your dealer, write us.

5/A HORSE BLANKETS ARE THE STRONGEST.

NONE GENUINE WITHOUT THE 5/A LABEL

Manuf'd by WM. AYRES & SONS, Philada., who make the famous Horse Brand Baker Blankets.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

[illegible] SUPPRESSED, EXCESSIVE, IRREGULAR [illegible] MENSTRUATION

IF TAKEN DURING CHANGE OF LIFE GREAT DANGER [illegible] WILL BE AVOIDED

BOOK TO WOMAN MAILED FREE

BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO. ATLANTA GA.

Sold by

H. J. HOBERMAN & CO.

HUMPHREYS' VETERINARY SPECIFICS

For Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Dogs, Hogs, AND POULTRY.

500 Page Book on Treatment of Animals and Chart Sent Free.

CURES Fevers, Congestions, Inflammation
A.A.—Spinal Meningitis, Milk Fever.
B.B.—Strains, Lameness, Rheumatism.
C.C.—Distemper, Nasal Discharges.
D.D.—Bots or Grubs, Worms.
E.E.—Coughs, Heaves, Pneumonia.
F.F.—Colic or Gripes, Bellyache.
G.G.—Miscarriage, Hemorrhages.
H.H.—Urinary and Kidney Diseases.
I.I.—Eruptive Diseases, Mange.
J.K.—Diseases of Digestion, Paralysis.

Single Bottle (over 50 doses),	- -	.60
Stable Case, with Specifics, Manual, Veterinary Cure Oil and Medicator,		$7.00
Jar Veterinary Cure Oil,	- -	1.00

Sold by Druggists; or Sent Prepaid anywhere and in any quantity on Receipt of Price.

Humphreys' Medicine Co., 109 Fulton St., N. Y.

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFIC No. 28

In use 30 years. The only successful remedy for Nervous Debility, Vital Weakness, and Prostration, from over-work or other causes. $1 per vial, or 5 vials and large vial powder, for $5.

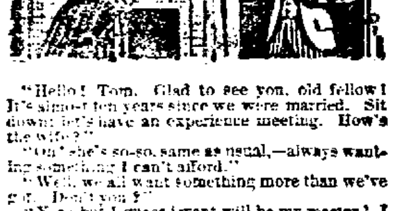
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS, or sent postpaid on receipt of price.—Humphreys' Medicine Co., 109 Fulton St., N. Y.



"Hello! Tom. Glad to see you, old fellow! It's almost ten years since we were married. Sit down; let's have an experience meeting. How's the wife?"

"Oh! she's so-so, same as usual,—always wanting something I can't afford."

"Well, we all want something more than we've got. Don't you?"

"Yes; but I guess 'want will be my master.' I started to keep down expenses; and now Lil says I'm 'mean,' and she's tired of saving and never having anything to show for it. I saw your wife down street, and she looked as happy as a queen!"

"I think she is; and we are economical, too,—have to be. My wife can make a little go further than anyone I ever knew, yet she's always surprising me with some dainty contrivance that adds to the comfort and beauty of our little home, and she's always 'merry as a lark.' When I ask how she manages it, she always laughs and says: 'That's my secret!' But I think I've discovered her 'secret.' When we married, we both knew we should have to be very careful, but she made one condition: she would have her Magazine. And she was right! I wouldn't do without it myself for double the subscription price. We read it together, from the title-page to the last word: the stories keep our hearts young; the synopsis of important events and scientific matters keeps me posted so that I can talk understandingly of what is going on; my wife is always trying some new idea from the household department; she makes all her dresses and those for the children, and she gets all her patterns for nothing, with the Magazine; and we saved Joe when he was so sick with the croup, by doing just as directed in the Sanitarian Department! But I can't tell you half!"

"What wonderful Magazine is it?"

"Demorest's Family Magazine, and—"

"What! Why that's what Lil wanted so bad, and I told her it was an extravagance."

[illegible] where you made a [illegible] rectify as [illegible] right here, [illegible] have a china [illegible] next month. [illegible] for getting [illegible] the new Premium [illegible] If you don't [illegible] only to write to [illegible] want, whether [illegible] he will [illegible] for [illegible] and surprise [illegible] East 14th [illegible]

[illegible] acknowledged [illegible] and feel safe [illegible] Sold by Druggists. PRICE $1.00.

A JOLLIFICATION!

THAT is what every man, women and child in Marion county has cause to join in after they have thoroughly tested our bargain offering. Clothing is a necessity, and the most advantageous purchases possible are quite necessary. Where to buy best is always an annoying problem—there are so many claims of "best and cheapest." We solve the problem for you. To prove the solution we ask you to call at the Campbell corner.

Nobody can equal us in supplying the wants of the male population. Ours is the great Clothing Headquarters. With our great Ready-made Clothing stock we carry a Merchant Tailoring department that is excelled nowhere in Central Ohio, and in the Ready-made line and Men's Furnishings we acknowledge no leaders. If you want an Overcoat, a cheap Work Suit, a Business Suit, a neat Dress Suit, or Underwear, we can supply you as well as anybody on earth, and, mind you, the prices recommend a general jollification. Call in.

Eckhart

The Tailor. The Clothier.

A GENTLEMEN—Fond of traveling, a good talker, can find a pleasant position, good money. Call at Hoberman & Co.'s and ask for Dr. Kelly.

FOR RENT—Rooms suitable for dwellings in Fite Block. Inquire of I. Fite. 288-tf

FOR RENT—A new dwelling on north East street, at low price. Inquire of James Malloy.

FOR RENT—House of six rooms, on east Center street, to responsible parties only. S. T. Beerbower. 302-1-w

FOR RENT—Nice front room on first floor, with grate, near Hotel Marion. 301 tf CHASE & HUNTER.

FOR SALE—The Charles Smith residence property, on west Center street. Possession given immediately. Inquire of George E. Smith. 301tf

—Turney's time. 180

—Council meeting tonight.

—Will Smith is reported on the sick list.

—Judge Norris convened court this morning.

—Miss Mary Scanlan spent Sunday with her parents at LaRue.

—Mrs. Daniel Rose, of Marseilles, was the guest of friends here last week.

—The monthly settlement between the Big Four and Erie was made today.

—H. E. Allen is here from Paulding to attend the reception in honor of his brother.

—Mrs. Holloway, of Kansas City, is the guest of Mrs. Copeland, on west Center street.

—A number from here contemplate attending the Gilmore concert at Delaware Thursday night.

—Operator English, of the Big Four force, is back at his place here, having charge of the night office.

—Will Moore is home from Indianapolis. Will is still on the editorial staff of the Western Sportsman.

—John Essex, Jr., has been transferred from the Erie office to the C. and E. freight office at the junction.

—Sandwiches, cake and coffee will be served Friday evening at the chrysanthemum reception. Price 15 cents.

—Operator Walker, of the Big Four here, has returned to his duties, after a short illness at his home in Harper.

—The infant child of Mr. Buxton, of the firm of Buxton & McClure, is quite seriously ill at his home on south West street.

—There will be a fine collection of flowers on sale at the chrysanthemum social Friday evening, at J. J. Hane's.

—Catarrh indicates impure blood, and to cure it, take Hood's Sarsaparilla which purifies the blood. Sold by all druggists.

—The two jolly, pleasant C. and E. conductors, McCollough and Dill, took dinner Sunday with that able statesman of the Third ward, Councilman Issleib.

—The committee on the anniversary social of the Free Baptist church are requested to be present at the Y. P. S. C. E. prayer meeting tomorrow evening.

—Miss Carrie Linder, retoucher at Moore's gallery, has been confined to her home for the past week on account of sickness but is now able to be about again.

—Mr. and Mrs. James McGill, of Urbana, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kulencamp, on north West street, over Sunday, returning to their home this morning.

—Another man is to be put on the day force at the junction telegraph office, work being so heavy there that it requires three men. It is not known who will take the position.

—A. M. Tucker, general superintendent of the Erie, passed through here this morning on his way to Chicago. He was in his private car and was accompanied by a number of other officials of the road.

—Messrs. G. S. Brown and W. B. Mann, of Mt. Gilead, have purchased ground of J. W. Freeland, at the corner of Center street and Kensington Place, and will erect a building in which they expect to establish a general store. They also expect to erect a large storage room at once. East Marion is bound to have an occasional boom.

—Dr. Sweney was called to LaRue today on professional business.

—Miss Artie B. Turley, who has been living at the home of Dr. Hensley, will depart this week for an extended visit among friends in West Virginia.

—Miss Fannie Bonner and Master Harry Bonner, of Peoria, Ill., are in the city, visiting their brother and father, Dr. Bonner, the veterinary surgeon.

—The Women's Mission Society of the Free Baptist church will meet at Mrs. Howard Bolander's, on west Center street, Wednesday, 12th, at 2:30 p.m.

—In the list of names of farmers published in last week's STAR, forbidding hunting and trespassing, the name of John Morganthaler was omitted. This was an error.

—Perry Bumgartner and Miss Lewellen Rider, both of this county, were married at the U. B. parsonage last Thursday, Nov. 6th, by Rev. J. L. Hensley.

—Miss Maggie Sommerville, of Butte City, Montana, accompanied by her little niece, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Hensley, on south West street. She will leave this week for a visit with friends in W. Va.

—The STAR has caught the drift of the rumor that is afloat today in regard to a local doctor putting himself in a compromising position with another man's wife, but doesn't desire to indulge in a sensation of that kind without the stability of facts.

—The big hearted boys of the Huber works have raised a purse of about one hundred dollars for the relief of Mrs. Gus Royce, whose husband died last week and left her in almost destitute circumstances. We understand that another paper is in circulation among citizens for charitable subscriptions for Mrs. Royce's aid.

—A north East street married lady, whose husband is employed in another town, seems to have several "lovers" among Marion men, two of whom met at her house one afternoon the later part of last week and had a fight, one of the men using a broomstick on the other, brusing him severely. No arrests were made, so we will mention no names, but north East street people are so indignant over the way things have been conducted at that house that they threaten dire vengence if the proceedings are not stopped.

Will Remain in Marion.

An impression seems to have gone out that The Prescott Railroad Equipment company is figuring upon having a few machines manufactured at this point and subsequently locating elsewhere. We are authorized to state that no such idea prevails in the minds of any member of the company. Mr. Harraman states that it was deemed advisable not to undertake to erect buildings at this late season of the year, besides a little time will be required in determining the exact needs of the company in this particular. If sufficient encouragement is given the enterprise to justify its location in Marion it will remain here and in any case to subserve the best interests of all the stockholders will be the governing motive in any arrangement the company may make for the transaction of its business.

To the People.

Marion, O., Nov. 10, 1890.

There are now twenty-one mailing boxes up in the different districts and I hope the people will avail themselves of and use them, as the mail will be gathered twice a day from them. You can deposit your mail in them with impunity, as there is a severe penalty on anyone caught tampering with these boxes. I would just say now to the boys that if they are caught putting sticks or stones or in any way tampering with these boxes they will be dealt with according to the statute, which is very severe. The police have instructions to watch them, and anyone who sees anybody meddling with the boxes will confer a favor by reporting them to this office. S. [illegible], P. M.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned is dissolved on this day by mutual consent.

W. C. [illegible], M. D.
E. A. Thorn, M. D.

C. and E. Collision.

[Huntington Herald.]

Cars were badly piled up and ditched on the C. and E. Friday morning. First section of freight train No. 84, William Laughlin, conductor, collided with a belt train near Chicago. Louie Beckstein, who was a member of the crew, received some injuries and was brought to the city Friday evening. He was cut about the head and suffered bruises about his person, but is not seriously hurt. He makes his home here but his folks reside in Fort Wayne. This is the first accident the road has had for some time and it is understood this was the fault of the other line.

Let Your New House Dry Out.

Many houses were built during the summer, and now people are hurrying into them, not stopping to think that there is too great haste in occupying a house after its completion. In many places there is such demand for dwellings, and often business apartments, that, as soon as finished, they are occupied. This is especially true of small dwellings. There is more danger in this than is supposed. There is no health in dampness and mold under any circumstances, and in living apartments, where the tendency is toward poor ventilation, the dampness of newly finished houses contributes largely to ill health.

In the town of Basle, Switzerland, a regulation has been adopted which prevents newly built houses from being occupied until four months after completion. Under many circumstances so long a time as above specified is not necessary, but it is often well to err on the side of safety. The size of the house, its location, surroundings, the material used and the state of the weather enter into the consideration of the time necessary in which a building should become sufficiently dry for occupancy.—New York Journal.

A Siberian Exile's Story.

An escaped Siberian exile, who has been in England for some time under the name of Felix Brant, is now made known by the new paper called Free Russia as Felix Volkhovsky. The reason for his retention of an assumed name for some time after his safe arrival on free soil helps one to realize the terrible anxieties of the unfortunate men who offend the Russian government. He was afraid that his child might be seized by that government, and that they would punish him for his escape through his daughter.

She is now safe in London, and the anxieties of the parent on her account are at an end. He endured seven years of solitary confinement in a Russian fortress, and eleven years' exile in Siberia for political opinions in which we are told terrorism had no part. Eluding the vigilance of the Siberian authorities, he made his way right across Siberia to the Pacific and so to Canada.—London News.

Chautauqua Has Some Apples.

Some western apple dealers arrived in this city Tuesday, and will make a tour of the county for the purpose of buying apples for western markets. Contrary to earlier expectations, the apple crop in Chautauqua county was a fair crop. There will not only be enough to supply the local market, but some for shipping as well. A peculiarity is that one orchard will yield fairly well while a neighboring one will be barren. One farmer said, "Last year, which was a better one for apples than this, I did not have an apple for sale, while this year I will have nearly a hundred bushels."—Jamestown Journal.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step into nervous prostration. You need a Nerve Tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great Nerve Tonic and Alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the liver and kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50 cents, at Flocken's drug store.

Accidentally Killed His Sister.

St. Louis, [illegible] Charlton, 8 years old, [illegible] Celsa, 6 years old, were playing yesterday morning at their home [illegible] South Sixth street. The boy [illegible] small shotgun. Accidentally the [illegible] discharged, and its contents entered [illegible] of his little sister killing her instantly.

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at Denison & Co's. and Hoberman & Co's, who also sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures fluttering, short breath, etc.

At Kansas City, Mo., a special policeman, David H. Green, shot and killed ex-Special Policeman Joseph Beaumont, who accused Green of circulating reports about him which caused him to be discharged.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at Flocken's drug store.

It Worked.

A veteran of [illegible], Ind., wanted to [illegible] color. She dropped [illegible] the bung, and she wouldn't be in working order before Jan. 1. Next [illegible] of the barrel hit her at once and the remainder smashed in the windows.—Detroit Free Press.

Taken by a Hansom Cabman.

People little know what a terrible power rests in the hands of a hansom cabman. They will realize it now when they hear how sternly and, it must be added, how usefully it was applied in the case of one William Jones. It appears that this person, who described himself as a commercial traveler, hired a hansom, and was driven about the town for several hours. For certain reasons the cabman suspected that there was something wrong about his fare. So what did he do but let down the front glass lights, and keep them down, thereby effectually imprisoning the vainly protesting traveler. He then drove to the Peckham police station and gave up his prisoner.

He had done well, for William Jones turned out to be a very bad character; in fact, an old and convicted burglar, whose suspicious movements had lately attracted the serious attention of the police. Brought up at the Lambeth police court, on the charge of being disorderly and as a person under police supervision, supposed to be getting his livelihood by dishonest means, he was sent to prison with hard labor for twelve months. The hansom cab has thus figured, for the first time in history, as a thief trap. It is to be hoped that its newly discovered and awful power will never be employed at the expense of the innocent.—London Telegraph.

Pilgrims to Mecca in Ill Luck.

Cruel ill luck has befallen some of the Indian pilgrims to Mecca this year. The pilgrim steamer Deccan, which left Bombay for Jeddah on the 17th of June, had on board more than 1,200 of these pious Mohammedans, packed, it is said, as usual, "like herrings in a barrel." It is not surprising that during the voyage six cases of cholera occured. This led to the ship being detained in quarantine at the great Red sea port for ten days. When this period had elapsed another case was declared, which involved a second quarantine.

By this time the period of the sacred ceremony of walking round the kaabah or temple of the prophet and kissing the black stone said to have been given by an angel to Abraham was at an end, and the poor pilgrims having spent all they had upon this pious duty were compelled to return as they came. It is painfully significant that the Deccan brought back 122 persons less than she took out. A similar incident, it is said, has not occurred for more than half a century. It is regarded by the faithful as a visitation of divine displeasure.—London News.

On the Watch.

A man about 55 years old, accompanied by his son, a boy of 14, was waiting for a train in the Grand Central depot the other day, when a man on the same bench, who had been reading a paper, folded it up and asked:

"Has the McKinley bill affected your neighborhood any?"

"The what?"

"The McKinley bill. How does it strike you?"

The old man didn't know anything about the bill, and he was fishing around for a reply, when the boy called out:

"Father, you keep still! He wants you to say that it strikes you good or bad, and then he'll call you a liar and offer to fight the both of us!"—New York Sun.

Christopher Columbus' Home.

The municipality of Genoa has it is reported consented to restore the house in which Christopher Columbus lived. It is rapidly falling into decay and has long stood in need of repair. Originally, when Domenico Colombo, Christopher's frther, inhabited the house, in 1457, it was of two stories only, but another was added in 1683, while the serious damage to the building caused by the bombardment of Genoa by Louis XIV was being repaired. The house at Valladolid, where Columbus died in poverty in 1509, is also to be restored. It is now used as a stable; but the municipality of the town intend to purchase it and turn it into a museum dedicated to the great explorer.—London Tit-Bits.

English Farms Vacant.

An enormous number of farms have become vacant this Michaelmas, and all over England it appears to be extremely probable that land owners will have them thrown upon their hands, as in most counties there are half a dozen vacant holdings for every eligible applicant. In Hampshire, Kent, Sussex and other counties, where the principal land owners already have thousands of acres unoccupied, the prospect is really very serious. It is nearly impossible to let arable farms on any terms, and even good grazing farms will only find tenants at reduced rentals. The Kent hop farms are reported to be difficult to let even at half the present rents.—London World.

Florida is putting its best resorts in readiness for the expected winter tourists. Lawn tennis courts are being arranged, vegetables are being planted in large quantities, boats are being prepared and as the announcements say, "No efforts will be spared to make life a pleasure and to give such healthful outdoor sports as will build up those who are run down from overwork, or will give a new lease of life to those afflicted with pulmonary or asthmatical diseases."

One of the points especially noted by military observers during the recent maneuvers abroad, where smokeless powder was used, was that in a clear atmosphere, unobscured by the smoke of battle, all bright accoutrements were seen at a great distance, thus betraying the positions of the various bodies of troops.

The czarowitch, the eldest son of the czar, who is to make an American tour, is a handsome young man of 23. He has a tall figure, a powerful physique and is a colonel in the Imperial guard. He is said to show considerable talent for the military profession.

It is estimated that one horse power of electric energy will furnish ample heat for a street car without smoke or dust or reduction of seating capacity.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Flocken

Height of Cruelty.

Nervous women seldom receive the sympathy they deserve. While often the pictures of health, they are constantly ailing. To withhold sympathy from these unfortunates is the height of cruelty. They have a weak heart, causing shortness of breath, fluttering, pain in side, weak and hungry spells, and finally swelling of ankles, oppression, choking, smothering and dropsy. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is just the thing for them. For their nervousness, headache, weakness, etc., his Restorative Nervine is unequaled. Fine treatise on "Heart and Nervous Diseases" and marvelous testimonials free. Sold and guaranteed by Denison & Co., and Hoberman & Co.

A Fall in Crockery.

I was amused by a sign that I saw the other day. It was prompted, no doubt, by the shopkeeper's enterprise, and announced a "Great Fall of Crockery and Furnishing Goods." Crockery that had suffered a very great fall you would hardly care to buy.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Catarrh, Hay or Rose Fever.

The cleansing, soothing and healing properties of Partys Prophylactic Fluid are experienced in the treatment and cure of Catarrh and kindred complaints. The Fluid soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and removes the offensive odor that characterizes the disease. Should the inflammation have reached the throat use the Fluid as a gargle to allay the inflammation and to disinfect.

GOOD, - DRY.

Second-Growth

ASH

STOVEWOOD

— FOR —

$1.50 Per Load!

— AT —

Prendergasts'.

Local Time Card.

BIG FOUR.
(In effect on and after May 18, 1890.)

WEST.		EAST.
No. 3	10.12 a. m.	No. 10	8.41 a. m.
No. 7	6.05 p. m.	No. 2	6.05 p. m.
No. 9	12.40 a. m.	No. 18	9:44 p. m.
No. 17	4:17 a. m.	No. 6	8:22 a. m.
No. 81, local.	7.00 a. m.	No. 80, local.	2:35 p. m.
No. 85, *M.Ac	8.30 a. m.	No. 82, *M.Ac	3:45 p. m.

*Marion accommodation; runs no farther west than this city.

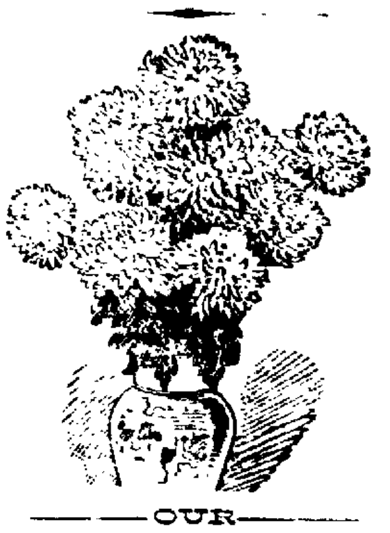
C., H. V. AND T.

NORTH.		SOUTH.
No. 31	6.30 am	No. 30	5.10 am
No. 33	11.35 am	No. 32	9.15 am
No. 35	5.21 pm	No. 34	1.14 pm
No. 37	11.10 pm	No. 36	8.13 pm

All trains run Sunday but 31 and 33. Trains 3[illegible] and 37 run only between Marion and Columbus.

C. AND A.

WEST.		EAST.
No. 1	9.30 a. m.	No. 8	11.25 p. m.
No. 5	12:35 p. m.	No. 2	7.00 p. m.
No. 3	11:20 p. m.	No. 12	4:30 a. m.
No. 7	8:15 p. m.	No. 6	11:30 a. m.



S. WILSON & SON

NURSERYMEN

—AND—

FLORISTS

Green-house and Gardens on East Center Street, corner of Greenwood.

—OUR—

NURSERY - STOCK!

Is the timely subject just now. This is the time to plant your trees. We have a stock of all the choice fruits—very desirable variety, and the young trees are good. We know it, because they are of our own growing and grafting, and we know they are true to name. We are right here, too, to guarantee them and make the guarantee good. We can do better for you than any agent traveling, in both prices and fruits.

We also carry a full stock of grape vines, ornamental shrubs and vines, and all the small fruits.

FLORAL - DEPARTMENT!

The capacity of our green-houses have been doubled in the past year, and our stock is doubled in extent. We have plants for decoration at all times.

CUT FLOWERS A SPECIALTY

Our design work is equal to that of any city and less in price. Floral decorations for weddings and parties supplied promptly. Orders for funerals are given especial attention.

☛ Ladies should order their Bulbs for Fall planting now.

Give Us Your Orders!

S. WILSON & SON.

TELEPHONE 61.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE STAR AND KEEP POSTED ON THE NEWS.

CHILDREN'S DRESSES!

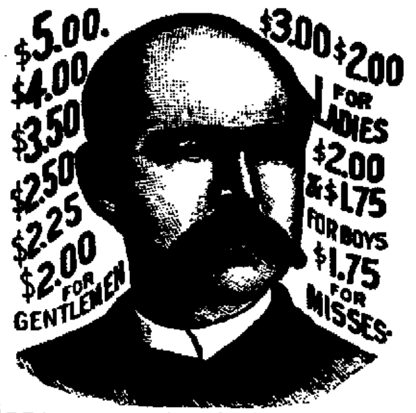
We are sole agents for Techner & Frank's

CHILD'S JERSEY DRESSES

The best and neatest thing of the kind sold, just the thing for children from 3 to 12 years. They are warm, neat and wear well. They make cheaper dresses for children than can be secured by buying goods and making them.

Jno. Frash.

CAUTION W. L. Douglas Shoes are warranted, and every pair has his name and price stamped on bottom



W. L. DOUGLAS
$3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

Fine Calf and Laced Waterproof Grain.

The excellence and wearing qualities of this shoe cannot be better shown than by the strong endorsements of its thousands of constant wearers.

$5.00 Genuine Hand-sewed, an elegant and stylish dress Shoe which commends itself.
$4.00 Hand-sewed Welt. A fine calf Shoe unequalled for style and durability.
$3.50 Goodyear Welt is the standard dress Shoe, at a popular price.
$3.50 Policeman's Shoe is especially adapted for railroad men, farmers, etc.
All made in Congress, Button and Lace.

$3 & $2 SHOES FOR LADIES,

have been most favorably received since introduced and the recent improvements make them superior to any shoes sold at these prices.

Ask your Dealer, and if he cannot supply you send direct to factory enclosing advertised price, or a postal for order blanks.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

SOLD BY

J. E. RHOADS.

LEADING OPTICIAN
—OF—
CENTRAL OHIO.

DR. B. MINCER, the Eminent Optician, has settled here permanently, having rented the east room of the Fite Block, East Center Street, and opened a line of Optical goods that is equal to any city establishment. With 36 years of practical experience, during which time thousands have been perfectly fitted with glasses, and with a perfect stock of goods at hand, Dr. Mincer is prepared to fit your eyes perfectly.

Gold Frame Spectacles at from $3 to $20, and Steel, Rubber and Silver Framed Glasses at from 50c to $12, the price depending on the Lenses. All glasses fitted without instrumental test, and the eyes are not tired out with repeated trials, but glasses fitted at once, where fitting is at all possible. Parties needing glasses are invited to call whether they buy or not.

H. M. AULT'S
Fire and Tornado
INSURANCE AGENCY!

OFFICE: Bennett Block, First Stairway East of Postoffice.

A Site for the Fair

Has been the interesting theme discussed by thousands in the past few months. I wish to interest you in a discussion. "The Site for the Fair," meaning, of course, the Ladies of Marion, is the Delightful Display of New Styles in

LADIES' FOOTWEAR

Now on view at our store. I can fit any foot, furnish any style of Shoe and guarantee all work to be of the best. I want to

MATCH THE CHICAGO FEAT

Of winning the World's Fair by a greater feat—winning the custom of the Fair of Marion. If I can win I can hold it by quality and prices.

JOHN H. STOLL,

SOUTH MAIN STREET, - - - - MARION, OHIO.

WILLIAMS & LEFFLER,

—THE LEADING—

Merchant Tailors,

ARE NOW SHOWING ALL THE

Novelties and Staples of the Season

—IN—

Fall and Winter Goods!

A Perfect Fit and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

FRAME & BEICHER,

Undertakers and Furniture Dealers!

We Offer During the Next 60 Days

OAK BEDROOM SUITS!

Which must and will be sold cheap. Each suit consists of 10 pieces. Call and see them and get prices.

UNDERTAKING

Our Undertaking Department is complete. All calls attended to promptly, day or night. Bodies Embalmed and prepared carefully by the latest approved methods, at reasonable prices. For conducting funerals we need no recommendations.

FISHER BLOCK, WEST CENTER STREET, MARION, OHIO.

DRESS GOODS!

Our Dress Goods stock is in [illegible] In Black Dress Goods we have all the best makes and [illegible] A stylish line of Stripes and Plaids [illegible] Black in Plain Dress Goods. [illegible] best thing in the market to make up [illegible] cheap Winter [illegible] In fact, we have everything that can [illegible] Weather Dress Goods and have them [illegible] cheapest.

DANIEL YAKE.

COAL!

AT LOW PRICES
—AT—
L. B. GURLEY'S.
OFFICE, NORTH OF [illegible]
TELEPHONE, NO. 67.

★FREE★

—A—

CAR LOAD

—OF—

SILK PLUSH

PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS,

Beautiful Steel Etchings and Oil Paintings--handsomely framed, presented to the patrons of Flocken's Pharmacy.

It is getting at the season of the year when a fire is needed morning and evening to take away the chill.

Good Coal

Makes a cheerful fire-and is the cheapest fuel in market If you have not laid in your Fall and Winter supply

S. E. D'Wolfe

Will gladly fill your orders with No. 1 Coal as cheap as the cheapest.

REDUCED PRICES!

The display of Frames in our show window are offered at greatly reduced prices--positive bargains.

VAIL, THE PHOTOGRAPHER.

THE ONLY EXPLANATION

For the large sale of our Ten-Cent Package of PAPER and ENVELOPES is

QUALITY

With Quantity. Ten of each of Heavy Weight and Excellent Grade put up by us, so we know the contents to be all right, at

C. G. WIANT'S.

—Turney's time.

—Go to Music Hall tonight.

—Cunningham, the plumber.

—Victor Knapp spent Sunday at his home in Nevada, O.

—Signor Milo with his educated dogs, at Music Hall tonight.

—Will Nelson left Sunday evening for Chicago, to spend a couple days.

—Sport-men can save money by buying their ammunition of J. W. Thew.

—S. E. Barlow took a vacation from the Huber office today and went gunning near Espyville.

—Mrs. S. Stingel and baby returned home Saturday evening after a three weeks' visit at Defiance Ohio.

—Rollie Crossen, day fireman on the C., H. V. and T. switch engine, was obliged to lay off Sunday on account of sickness.

—Mrs. E. B. Schwaeder and Miss Nell Strong, of Ashtabula, Ohio, are the guests of Mrs. H. C. Smith, north East street.

—The Big Four road change their schedule time card next Sunday. Just what changes they will make is not known as yet.

—Harry Griffith was smiling on old acquaintances and friends here this morning. Harry says Hamilton county is all right.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Johnston, of Van Wert, are in the city for a few days, guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnston, on west Center street.

—The Hawthorn Family and Paul Kauver theatrical companies changed cars here this morning. They came off the Erie and took the south bound C. H. V. and T.

—Rudolph Woodard, employe of the Huber foundry, died at his home on in Mechanics' addition, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, after a couple weeks' sickness with typhoid fever. Deceased was not of age, but leaves a wife and one child. The funeral will occur tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—Of course you want to jollify. Just drop into Eckhart's first and see the attractive offerings in overcoats, clothing and underwear, and you will have additional and abundant cause to jollify. The offerings are matchless and the prices are just what fair and honest dealing make them.

—Will Cloud, colored, was arrested Saturday afternoon and taken before Mayor Dudley on the charge of assaulting his mother, Mrs. Tom Phez. Cloud and his wife were residing at the Phez house, and when Mrs. Phez told them that they could live there no longer, Cloud grabbed a stick of wood and struck the mother on the head. He plead guilty before the Mayor and was fined $8.90, which he settled and was released, after expressing sorrow for his act.

GET THE BEST
Hard or Soft

COAL

Lindsey & Lawrence
[illegible] Railroads

[illegible]

Andy Fields, a Colored Barber, Avoids a Warrant for His Arrest for Rape.

Andy Fields, the colored barber who has been working at A. Baty's Hotel Marion shop since last week, became involved in an affair with a mulatto girl between [illegible] and [illegible] years of age, named Mary Simpson, during last week which resulted in his hurried leave of the town. Fields and the Simpson girl have been more or less intimate for the past few weeks, and had been together almost every night.

Fields has been quite a swell about town in his way and was conspicuous with a high cut, kinky pompadour and a tall plug hat, a long imitation gold watch chain and no watch, with a carriage that at least distinguished him as a counterfeit of a dignified colored gentleman of pretensions.

On Friday night the Simpson girl above mentioned went out to West Marion with a girl companion and stated to parties out there that Fields would be out later. In the meantime, so it is stated, the girl became intoxicated, and when her paramour arrived she joined him for the evening. The two some way gained an entrance to Baty's West Marion barber shop, and were lost sight of for the time.

On Saturday evening the girl reported to her relatives that she had been raped by Fields, and George Guy, her uncle, swore out a warrant before Mayor Dudley for his arrest. Shortly after 9 o'clock Marshal Redd and Policeman Masterson took the warrant and proceeded to the barber shop to arrest Fields. He and the girl had been together in the evening, however, when she told him that a warrant was out for his arrest. So when Redd and Masterson approached the shop Fields left his man in the chair half shaved, quietly walked out in his shirt sleeves and bareheaded and left the officers awaiting his return. But he has not as yet returned and his silk tile and coat still hang on a peg in the shop.

The Simpson girl swore that Fields forced her to submit to his will by threats with a revolver, but this story is rather doubtful, while Fields accused her of stealing his pocketbook.

A Laughing Event.

Chas. A. Loder's merry Hilarity Comedy Company will appear at Music Hall Friday evening, Nov. 14, in the laughing, musical absurdity, "Hilarity," under the management of Messrs. Brady & Garwood. Hilarity is full of pure and wholesome fun, replete with choice and catchy songs, and music, good dancing, jolly comedians.

The Chicago Herald, says: When a piece is avowedly written and acted, to make an average audience laugh from the beginning to the end of it, one has no right to complain if it lacks of every other element of success if it does this. Hilarity is therefore a success, and no more is to be said about it. But see it and laugh, you can't help it if you should want to.

Interesting to Ladies.

I have on hand, and will continue to keep, a well selected stock of stamped linens for outlining, sorento work, Roman embroidery and a suitable line of silks for same. Will do stamping to order. MRS. C. P. GAILEY.

—An unfortunate and emaciated old horse was impounded Sunday night. He was dead this morning and the poundmaster had to see to hauling him out.

FULL DRESS

— AND —

FANCY SILK!

➤VESTS➤

—AT—

J. STRELITZ & SON'S,

— THE —

MAMMOTH CLOTHIERS.

Knee Breeches and Silk Stockings.

And so knee breeches and silk stockings are to be the fashion for full dress occasions in England this winter. And why not in America as well? Long have gentlemen in society struggled to be allowed to make some distinction between their own dress and that of the waiters. But fashion or custom is inexorable. A year or two ago a very sensible society lady in New York gave a ball, at which the gentlemen were requested to appear in variously colored garments. The result was charming, a revival of the days of Louis and of the Charleses. But the fashion thus set, or attempted to be set, did not continue. Why not no one can tell.

After this one ball was over the crimson and blues and purples were laid aside and appeared no more, and their owners reappeared in their somber "claw hammers." To resume the garb of our forefathers for ordinary wear would be an absurdity, but to revive these graceful and elegant garments for dress occasions would certainly be good taste and could not be unfavorably received by the ladies. The revival of the silk stockings and breeches in English society is perhaps a forerunner of some such revolution. Already we of this country are growing sensible in the matter of summer attire; why should we not grow sensible as well in our garments for social occasions?—Boston Advertiser.

Naming Colts.

Naming colts as they are brought into the world on a big stock raising farm might seem to be a simple operation, but, just as when the parents of a dozen children find themselves short of names and have to resort to a Biblical or classical terminology, so do the owners of a lot of horses kept for the purpose of raising horses for the turf find themselves running short of names. Who has failed to [illegible] the odd nomenclature of the race course? The proprietor of a farm and a big lot of thoroughbreds in Pennsylvania has made a rule for himself. To all the colts born in the first year, under this rule, he gave names beginning with A, in the second year B, and so on. He put the idea into practice nine years ago, and has reached the letter I. Sometimes there are queer combinations of names. For instance, a colt was named Harmony, and the next year his brother had tacked to him the name Impudence. As the breeder has fifteen colts this year to be named with names beginning with the letter I, he confesses himself puzzled to originate attractive and orotund names enough to go around.—New York Sun.

Punished for Being Honest.

John Branson, a man bearing a good character, found a check at the Edinburgh exhibition. He could not read, and the friends to whom he showed the check advised him to keep it and look out for a reward. This he did, buying the Edinburgh papers for a month, at the end of which time he handed over the check to the police. He then got his reward.

He was prosecuted for not giving up the check within the prescribed time after finding it, and was brought before Bailie Walcot, who, although "he did not think there was any intention of theft," imposed a fine of [illegible], or two days' imprisonment, "it being too serious an affair for his lordship to pass by." The bailie therefore expressly finds that the man was not a thief. Why, then, the sentence? Evidently as a punishment for honesty, since if the man had destroyed the check instead of delivering it to the police he would never have got into trouble.—London Truth.

A Cool Thief.

A thief went through the Mount Vernon, O., [illegible] the other day. He drove up to the [illegible] building in a buggy, hitched his horse and went in. [illegible] with a two [illegible] He then went [illegible] went through the other rooms [illegible] away [illegible] $17, was [illegible] Cleveland Leader.

Suggestions to Secretary Tracy.

Secretary Tracy [illegible] Admiral [illegible] in Peru [illegible] was engaged in [illegible] As we [illegible] perhaps he might [illegible]—Raleigh (N. C.) News.

SPECIAL

SEALSKINOPENING

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, NOV. 13 & 14.

HENRY A. NEWLAND & CO.'S. Detroit. Mich.

[illegible]

Genuine Elaska Seal Skin Cloaks, Jackets, Capes and Fine Furs

Of every description. Mr. E. P. Robinson, of the above house, will be in attendance. The reputation of the house for the best goods is well known for Style and Fit—they have no equal. Measurements taken for new Garments. Furs of all kinds taken for repair. A General Invitation is extended to the public to inspect the elegant line.

Warner & Edwards

DRESS GOODS!

We are showing an exceptionally large line of Dress [illegible] In [illegible] we offer all the Novelties of the Season. [illegible] Plain Goods [illegible] large. In Black Dress Goods we stand [illegible] county. Never before in the history of Marion [illegible] array of Black Silks shown, and at the prices that we [illegible] because we sell only for cash. Just think! Elegant Black [illegible] 46 inches wide, at 69c, 75c and 82 1-2c!

Some stores would consider them bargains at 75c, 85c and $1. [illegible] Armures, Almas, Glorias, Silk-Warp Henriettas and the other principal weaves at uniformly low prices. Our Silk-Warp Henriettas [illegible] conceded to be the best value ever shown in Ohio. We have [illegible] some entirely new things to our already large Trimming Stock!

Which makes it to [illegible] the banner of the county. Samples of any of these goods for comparison will be freely given.

D. A. FRANK & CO.

Cash and One-Price Dry Goods House Masonic Block, Marion.

DON'T BUY

GROCERIES!

—UNTIL YOU—

GET PRICES

—AT—

NELSON'S

CASH GROCERY,

HOTEL MARION BLOCK.

Children Enjoy

The pleasant flavor, gentle action and soothing effects of Syrup of Figs, when in need of a laxative, and if the father or mother be costive or bilious the most gratifying results follow its use, so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a bottle.

—Kelly's Anticipations, or rather Expectations, as it is called, which did a better business at Music Hall Saturday night than it deserved, was not the kind of a performance that will make patrons for the house. There is said to have been scarcely a redeeming feature of the whole show, and if there was it was forgotten among the "rottenness," as disgusted patrons call it. It hurts the reputation of Music Hall, which has been none of the best, to allow such shows as Kelly's Expectations, with its disintegrated, worm-eaten chestnuts to slip in and disgust the amusement loving public.

—Educated dogs at Music Hall tonight.

There are many white soaps,
each represented to be
"just as good as the Ivory."
They are not,
but like
all counterfeits,
they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine.
Ask for Ivory Soap
and insist upon having it.
'Tis sold everywhere.

MUSIC HALL!

J. B. Sargent, Manager.

TWO NIGHTS.

Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 10 and 11.

SIGNOR MILO,

With his dramatic play, entitled

"THE Lone Hand—4 Aces,"

OR

Equal to a Royal Flush.

Supported by a strong company of Irish, Dutch and Negro Comedians.

A Wonderful Collection of Performing Trick Dogs.

A Grand Street Parade.

The only copyrighted dog show in the world!

Admission 25c; reserved seats 35c; children under 12 years, 15c.

☞ Reserved Seats now on sale at Tristram & Young's.

MUSIC HALL

J. B. SARGENT, - - MANAGER.

ONE NIGHT ONLY!

FRIDAY, NOV. 14TH.

A WORLD OF FUN!

[illegible] German Dialect Comedian, Vocalist and Dancer,

CHARLES A. LODER,

Under the direction of Messrs. Brady & Garwood, in the most Laughing Musical Absurdity,

"HILARITY!"

[illegible] by a company of Great Comedians, rewritten for this season, by Scott Marble, Esq., with

New and Beautiful Songs!
New and Artistic Dancing!
New and Catchy Music!
New and Funny Sayings;

A HOST OF PRETTY GIRLS!

In Lively Songs, Witty Dialogues, Beautiful Faces, Etc., Etc.

PRICES, - 25, 35 and 50c!

[illegible] Reserved seats at Tristram & Young's.

L. DENISON & CO.

—HEADQUARTERS FOR—

WALL PAPER

Curtains and Curtain Goods!

—AND—

MOULDINGS AND FRAMES.

Spcialties in Toilet Novelties!

MASONIC BLOCK.

L. DENISON & CO.

GURLEY & MONROE

Are still at the old stand, north of jail. We keep on hand a general stock of

FEED AND FLOUR!

BALED

HAY AND STRAW.

We Compete in Price with Any House Handling the Same Quality of Goods.

GURLEY & MONROE.

COAL! COAL!

Buy your Coal at once from

PRENDERGASTS

And save Twenty-five Per Cent.

COAL! COAL!

VAIL

PHOTOGRAPHS AND FRAMES!
218 East Center Street.

OYSTERS!

The leading Oyster House in Marion is

THE ENGLISH KITCHEN.

The best brands [illegible] all times. Sold by can or served to order.

B. HALL, Proprietor.

A CUT SALE!

—AT—

PRICES THAT TALK.

We have decided to sell out a special invoice of Misses and Children's Wraps, especially adapted to school wear. They are choice garments and the prices ought to sell them rapidly. They are shown in a special department on our first floor. Note the prices and call if you want genuine bargains.

HERE THEY ARE:

For Age of	6	Years.	Two Children's Garments	at $ 69	worth	$1 25
"	6	"	Two " "	2 89	"	4 50
"	6	"	Two " "	2 99	"	5 50
"	8	"	Two " "	3 69	"	6 25
"	8	"	One " "	3 99	"	7 75
"	8	"	One " "	4 49	"	8 00
"	10	"	Two " "	99	"	2 00
"	10	"	One " "	2 59	"	5 50
"	10	"	One " "	3 49	"	6 75
"	10	"	One " "	2 89	"	5 75
"	12	"	One " "	2 99	"	5 75
"	12	"	One " "	2 29	"	5 00
"	12	"	Four " "	2 99	"	6 00
"	12		Two	3 19		6 25
"	12		One	3 99		8 50
"	14		Two	4 49		8 75
"	14	"	One "	3 89	"	8 25
"	14	"	One " "	4 39	"	8 75

One lot age 12, 14, 16 and 18 Misses Chinchilla Jackets at $2 99, actual value $5.00. One lot age 12, 14, 16 and 18 Misses Beaver Jackets, reefer fronts at $3.39 worth $6.00.

FRASH'S DRY GOODS HOUSE.